Two Accused by Jury at 'Shame' Inquest

SETTLEMENT IN MINE WAR IS EFFECTED

Agreement Provides for Five-Year Wage Contract With No Increase in Pay

BACK TO WORK AT ONCE

Scale Given to Workers May Be Altered at Any Time After Jan. 1, 1927

(By United Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—A basis of settlement in the anthracite coal strike, which for 165 days has kept 158,000 workers from the mines, was reached today. Secretary Gorman, of the joint conference, made this announcement at 1:50 p. m. today.

"At a meeting of the joint conference, a tentative agreement to end the anthracite strike was reached today.

"The agreement will go to the tri-district convention of the miners, after which the contract will be drawn up and signed."

Provisions of Agreement
1.—The agreement provides work shall be resumed at once under the terms of the expired contract, which will continue in effect until Aug. 31, 1930.

2.—At any time after Jan. 1, 1927, either party may propose wage modification.

3.—If a joint conference fails to agree, all issues will be referred to a board of two men, named by the operators and miners.

4.—Demands of the operators and the mine workers on questions of co-operation and efficiency are referred to the board of conciliation, exclusive of the umpire.

5.—The board of conciliation shall proceed to equalize wages in accordance with the 1923 agreement.

No Mention of Check-off
The agreement contains no mention of the check-off, which was demanded by the miners in earlier negotiations, nor the arbitration of wages, which the operators have insisted upon for more than seven months.

President John L. Lewis issued a statement in which he said: "The settlement is satisfactory and constructive. It assures stability and continuous operations for a five-year period, which is the longest agreement ever made in the coal industry. It does not contain the principle of arbitration, which the operators have been contending, but it does provide machinery for the exercise of reason in the industry."

"It is the dawn of a new era in the anthracite industry and both operators and miners should make the most of the opportunity which is given them."

Longest Hard Coal Strike
The settlement of the strike brings to an end the longest anthracite controversy in the history of hard coal suspensions. The famous 1902 strike endured only 164 days.

It has been more than seven months since representatives of operators and miners met in Atlantic City to formulate a new contract. Since that time the demands of both groups changed considerably.

While the public admittedly has been the principal loser in the long drawn out controversy, operators, miners and railroads have suffered irreparable losses. The cost of the strike in wages, profits, wastage and railroad revenues is estimated at close to $1,000,000,000.

Policeman Is Taken For Bandit; Shot

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Mistaken for a bandit, Patrolman Walter Coleman was shot down early today by E. D. Temple, another officer. Coleman was shot twice in the wrist, but the wounds are not dangerous. The officer was covering a youth, tinkering with an automobile in front of his home. Patrolman Temple thought a robbery was taking place and opened fire on Coleman.

JIM AND 'FIFI' BILL AND COO AT CHERBOURG

CHERBOURG, Feb. 12.—James A. Stillman, New York banker, and his wife, Anne Urquhart Stillman, are "completely reconciled."

Arriving here in happy spirits today aboard the White Star liner Olympic, on their reconciliation honeymoon, they swept away any lingering doubts as to whether their experiment in rebuilding an all but shattered marital life were a success.

"All is right again," said Mrs. Stillman, beamingly. "Of course, it's all fixed up. And, when I say, 'fixed up,' I know what I am talking about. Some of you know me and I think you know I know my own mind."

Look to Happy Future
Thus, emphatically, the woman whose marital troubles have been the sensation of years in America, made it clear that she and "Jimmy," as she called her husband, had scrapped the past and were looking forward to a happy future.

Stillman himself would tell nothing of how the reconciliation was achieved.

Mrs. Stillman, while denying that she is "converting" her husband to psycho-analysis, admitted that she hoped that she and Stillman would visit Dr. Jung, of Switzerland, one of the world's most famous psycho-analysts.

Then she told of plans to raise the Paris dress marts and gave a true feminine touch to her remarks by observing:

"Mr. Stillman is still interested in business and he's got to pay for my Paris clothes now. You see, I'm not so terrible; I haven't blue hair or yellow hair."

Retired and Not Retired
Asked if Mr. Stillman has retired from business, Mrs. Stillman said:

"Mr. Stillman has retired, but he is still in business as anyone is who has wide interests. That's our bread and butter and he's got to pay for my Paris clothes."

"I five years I saw Mr. Stillman only three times. We are getting acquainted again."

The couple agreed to be photographed together. Then Stillman admitted the reporters.

"I feel just like a youth out of college," he said.

The banker refused to reply to questions as to how the reconciliation was effected.

He ended the interview with: "I could say many nice things about Mrs. Stillman."

"Perhaps he has already said them," murmured his wife.

Supplies Hauled For Polar Flight

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 12.—Headed by A. Malcolm Smith, veteran arctic musher, the advance party of the Wilkins Polar Flight expedition was pressing across the snows from Nenana today.

With two snow motors in use, the group is transporting hundreds of gallons of gasoline and other supplies to Point Barrow, from which place the cross-pole flight will take off.

The expedition is expected to be at least three weeks on the 700-mile trek to Barrow.

Warning Issued

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12.—Warning that a man or group of men are passing worthless checks, purporting to be issued by the state highway department, was issued today by highway officials.

Checks have been cashed in Richmond, Willows and Redwood City. They usually are in amounts of from $15 to $40 and are drawn on California banks.

All payments due from the highway commission are issued on its own checks and not on those of any banking company, the commission said.

TAX MEASURE TERMED RICH MAN'S BILL

Howell Holds New Revenue Proposal Is Nothing But Multi-Millionaire Subsidy

SAYS POOR WILL PAY

Senate Expected to Make Quick Disposition and Send Act to Conference

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—The Republican-Democratic coalition tax bill, nearing final adoption in the senate, is a "multi-millionaire subsidy," Senator Howell, Nebraska, Republican, told the senate today in the opening of the final fight of the group opposing the bill.

"This bill means government favors for those with incomes over $100,000," Howell said. "The poor man will pay for it."

The $452,000,000 tax reduction bill will pass its swift way through the senate today and should be made a law within 10 days.

Only 40 individual amendments remain to be voted on before the measure, which will slash payments to be made next March 15, is passed by the upper house. The final action is expected late this afternoon or tonight.

The bill will then be considered by a conference of committees from the senate and the house to iron out differences. This may require a week or so, then the bill will be sent to the president for signature.

The conferees are expected to prune down the total cut—probably eliminating repeal of the automobile tax so that it will come within reasonable approximation of the $330,000,000 reduction the secretary of the treasury thinks safe.

Yesterday, Senators McNary and Stanford told President Coolidge that McCamant's name would be adversely reported on by the senate judiciary committee. Their visit to the White House was for the purpose of persuading the president to withdraw the nomination and save the party a probable setback.

The president's reply was not made public, but it is believed he will exhibit the well known Coolidge determination and refuse to withdraw the nomination.

Two Drown When Boat Is Wrecked

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 12.—Harry Hoover and Tom Compton, dock workers, were drowned today as the result of the wrecking of the motorboat Oriole in high waves at Castellamare, north of here.

Emil and Ralph Gilman, also on the foundered launch, were rescued by coast guards.

The men were at work on the boat, repairing a dock, when the washings gave way and the craft was smashed against the pier.

Mexico Plans to Deport Priests

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12.—With the arrest of several Spanish priests, allegedly for deportation, it was reported here today that the government plans to act against priests of nationalities other than Mexican. One paper charges that the priests were rounded up in their churches while they were still engaged in religious services and were hurried away preparatory to sending them out of Mexico by way of Vera Cruz.

State Owns Twentieth Of World's Motor Cars

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12.—California's motor vehicle "populace" was more than one twentieth of the world total on January 1, the state highway commission announced today.

Nearly twice as many vehicles were registered in this state as in France and several times more than in Italy. The number was not far behind the total for England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland. Only one other state, New York, had a greater registration.

There were 25,973,928 motor driven vehicles registered in the world January 1, according to figures made public by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover. Seventy-seven per cent were in the United States. California's registration was 1,475,913, or 5.68 per cent of the total for the entire globe.

BATTLE LOOMS WITH COOLIDGE ON APPOINTEES

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The Coolidge administration is facing a fierce senate battle in its apparent dogged determination to place Wallace McCamant, of Oregon, on the U. S. circuit court of appeals, and Thomas F. Woodlock, of New York, on the interstate commerce commission.

Like Charles B. Warren, nominee to the seat of attorney general, whose appointment was blocked last year by Democrats and Independent Republicans, McCamant and Woodlock have qualities that excite congressional fire-eaters. Both are said to have been tarred with the brush of the "interests," both have the backing of the tight-mouthed business men who are the president's constant advisers. Both are valuable party men.

Yesterday, Senators McNary and Stanford told President Coolidge that McCamant's name would be adversely reported on by the senate judiciary committee. Their visit to the White House was for the purpose of persuading the president to withdraw the nomination and save the party a probable setback.

The president's reply was not made public, but it is believed he will exhibit the well known Coolidge determination and refuse to withdraw the nomination.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Federal censorship of motion pictures today split the fourth National Motion Picture conference into opposing factions and little hope of agreement was seen in today's closing session.

Resolutions, chief of which will demand a federal board for censoring movies, are to be put to a vote just before the conference closes. Opponents of censorship are about as numerous as the proponents and debate may decide the issue.

Canon W. S. Chase, of New York, is chief sponsor of the censorship program. He was opposed at last night's session by E. A. More, of the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures, who accused Canon Chase of "political maneuvering."

Canon Chase today gave the following reasons for federal movie censorship:

1.—Because the motion picture industry is a national business like railroads and banks and should be nationally controlled, as are these businesses.

2.—Because the industry has broken all its promises to reform itself from within.

3.—To kill the plot of the motion picture industry to commercialize the American Christian Sabbath.

4.—To secure clean movies for all children.

5.—To compel the producers to provide plays that shall do justice to the full range of human interests and experience.

6.—To protect the freedom of the screen just as the freedom of the press should not be destroyed "by a few rich men."

Benefit Is Two-fold
In addition to "millions" the present storm is worth to crops, growing and to be planted, it is worth more "millions" because of the psychological effect it will have on people generally. This effect will be reflected, in the opinion of farmers and merchants, in stimulated business in all lines.

The tabulated report shows clearly that precipitation to date at all points in the county is approximately double the recorded fall for the corresponding date a year ago.

"Grain will shoot up now as it has not shot up here in a number of years," said a grain farmer today. A bean grower said that lands devoted to this vegetable were never in better condition than at this time, and prediction was made that dry lands in dictation was made that dry lands in particular would produce a crop exceeding that of any year for many years past.

No Damage To Wires
The present storm has done no damage to the telephone or electric systems here, according to reports made by managers.

Pacific Electric service between Los Angeles and Huntington Beach and Newport Beach was interrupted for a period yesterday afternoon by a washout near Sunset Beach, the condition being the result of high tides along the beach. Regular service was being maintained today.

An extremely high tide was running today at Newport Beach and Balboa, as well as at other points along the coast, but no damage was done, as the high water was not accompanied by big combers.

RAIN PREDICTED FOR SATURDAY
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Southern California's third torrential rainstorm in a fortnight continued unabated today and, according to the weather bureau forecasts, the deluge will last through tomorrow. Flooded roadways and heavy damage to Oceanside property were reported today as a result of the downpour and high tides.

A cloudburst in the Santa Ynez mountains, near Santa Barbara, sent a wall of water down San Yzidro and other canyons, causing some damage to property in the exclusive Montecito section. Ten inches of rain fell within an hour.

Highways were inundated, bridges washed away, and gardens and orchards covered with the floodwater.

DETAILS OF BORDER VICE ARE EXPOSED

Evidence of Crime in Tia Juana Laid Bare at San Diego Coroner's Inquiry

GUILTY MEN WILL DIE

Attackers of U. S. Girls Are to Be Executed by Firing Squad at Sunrise

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 12.—Responsibility for the suicides of the four members of the Thomas M. Petzet family, following an attack upon his two daughters, was placed upon Chief of Police Llanos, of Tia Juana and Luis Amador, owner of the Oakland bar at the border resort, in four separate verdicts returned by a coroner's jury here today.

(By United Press)

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 12.—An inquest into the "shame suicide" of the four members of the Petzet family was opened here at 10 a. m. today, by Coroner Schuyler Kelly.

The inquest will combine all evidence of vice conditions at Tia Juana, gathered by investigators since the Petzetes were found dead from asphyxiation in their home here after a visit to the border town.

Many U. S. Women Attacked.
Many American women have been attacked by the Tia Juana policemen, it was learned at the inquest.

Asked if he had ever heard complaints at the border about women being attacked in the turf town, Fred Markley, deputy collector of customs at the international boundary, replied:

"Yes, many times. 'Women go over there and get drinking and it is very often that the policemen themselves steer them to a hotel and take advantage of their condition by attacking them.'"

As this does not pertain to the customs service, the complaints often are met with the answer, "Well, what did you go over there for?" Markley declared.

A concerted drive to wipe out the vice menace at Tia Juana was launched today, simultaneously with action by various agencies of the American and Mexican governments to average the deaths of Americans at the border resort.

Probe Other Atrocities.
Investigations of other alleged atrocities involving American citizens were pushed with renewed vigor by Governor Rodriguez of Lower California, and American officials, under direct orders from Washington.

Mexican authorities, who finished questioning Chief Llanos and six other prisoners this morning, declared the men, if found guilty of the asserted attacks on the Petzet girls, would be lined up before a firing squad and shot at sunrise.

Angeles Zuma, Tia Juana city jailer, was in the probe net today. He was held on a charge of murdering T. M. N. George, wealthy Atlanta, Ga., cotton broker, who died in a local hospital after a beating by Mexicans at the resort.

Mayor to Close Resorts
Mayor Palacios of Tia Juana was expected to take drastic action today in closing up objectionable resorts. He declared he was waiting on the arrival of Governor Rodriguez before taking definite action. The mayor intimated he would order a blanket deportation of all questionable women, and padlock a number of bars and hotels which have become centers of unlicensed vice.

Frank Behr, American vice consul at Mexico, began a separate investigation of the Petzet atrocities under orders from Washington.

Another inquiry into the case of Elmo K. Gordon, chief petty officer, held in a Tia Juana jail for seven months, was being pushed by Rear Adm. A. H. Robertson of 11th naval district. It is alleged by San Diego county authorities that Gordon has been held on trumped-up charges.

DAVIS DELAYS HEARING ON VERA'S DEPORTATION

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Secretary of Labor Davis today postponed until Monday his decision on the case of Vera, Countess Cathcart, who was denied admission into the country by Ellis Island immigration authorities.

Action was postponed on the petition of counsel for the countess, who said he desired to present her case to the secretary. The countess will be held at Ellis Island, pending Davis' decision.

The appeal of the countess from American authorities' exclusion orders was placed in the hands of Davis today.

The recommendation of the board of review was not made public.

County Motor Exhibit to Open Rain or Shine,
Officials Say

Rain or shine, the second annual Orange County Automobile Show Beautiful will open, "in a blaze of glory," at 7 o'clock tonight, it was announced today by Bob Cavenagh, manager.

The show site is on East Fourth street, just east of Garfield street, on the Union Pacific right-of-way. Street decorations on East Fourth street direct the way. Admission will be 10 cents.

The tent is as near rain proof as canvas can be made. Cavenagh said, and should it rain tonight, there will be no inconvenience to persons in the tent, he declared.

Exhibitors were engaged today in installing their displays under the big top.

The big floor space of 44,000 feet is being utilized by the exhibitors and when one steps into the show he will be impressed by the magnificent proportions of the tent and by the artistic decorations that have been installed.

Added to the decorative features will be the beauty of the very latest creations of automobile manufacturers. Automobile accessories will be well represented.

An entertainment program by professionals will be given at 9 o'clock and will continue for one hour and 10 minutes. The management has secured high class talent. The programs will be changed every night and entertainers will be changed every other night.

up charges of the Mexican vice kings.

Affidavits at Inquest
The Petet affidavits, with their sensational accusations against Mexican officers, were ordered presented at the coroner's inquest. Other affidavits containing testimony of several American visitors alleged to have been molested by Tia Juana police, are expected to furnish additional revelations.

San Diego county authorities claim the Tia Juana jail was an institution maintained principally to rob American tourists. After their arrest on trivial or manufactured charges.

AMADOR WANTED ON NARCOTIC CHARGE
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Luis Amador, Tia Juana cafe operator, one of seven Mexicans held in connection with the alleged kidnaping and attacks on the Petet girls, is wanted by local federal authorities on a narcotic charge.

He was arrested here on Aug. 10, 1922, and fled to Mexico while under $5000 bonds furnished by relatives. Amador was indicted by a federal grand jury on Oct. 6, 1922, on two counts of alleged narcotic selling.

He refused to return to Los Angeles for arraignment on grounds he was a Mexican citizen.

Crusade Under Way
A determined crusade to close the border at Tia Juana was under way in California today.

Civic leaders, churchmen and editors are behind the move to clamp the lid on the notorious border resort.

The Los Angeles chapter of the W. C. T. U. adopted resolutions calling on President Coolidge to "close the border at Tia Juana immediately."

"While thousands of cases at Tia Juana have never been made public, one awful case of doping and abusing young American girl tourists has brought the suicidal deaths of an entire family and a public investigation," he resolutions stated.

Put Blame on Shortridge
"The responsibility for this and other outrages rests on the public attitude of California's U. S. senator, Samuel Shortridge, because of his inaction and quiet opposition to stringent border closings at Tia Juana," the resolutions added.

Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, declared: "This Petet tragedy brings the condition home to us. A drastic embargo from this side ought to be placed immediately."

Dr. F. M. Larkin, secretary of the state church federation, said: "The public does not realize the enormity of the crime against our morality. It has been said that 11,000 boys and girls under 16 during the year were turned back from crossing the border, but who can tell the thousands between 16 and 21 or over who were permitted to cross and come back as a source of pollution?"

Press Joins Crusade
The press of California, too, joined today in the campaign on Tia Juana.

"It is high time that a remedy is provided for the disgraceful situation in Tia Juana, the plague spot of the border," declares the Los Angeles Illustrated Daily News.

"Common decency and defense of California homes demand that this cesspool of uncontrolled vice be cleansed."

"If the Mexican government can accomplish the cleanup, so much and so good. If our state department solves the question, it is to be congratulated. But make it lasting."

The Los Angeles Examiner urges that "Tia Juana be eradicated." "It is the meeting place and hideout of thieves, gamblers, racketeers, dope peddlers and violators of women."

"In it collect the scum of this country, who co-operate in villainy with the worst classes of Mexicans. The place is a menace to America and a disgrace to Mexico."

Petet Case Not Exceptional
The Petet case is "not exceptional, save in the tragedy," according to the Los Angeles Times. "The dens of Tia Juana are notorious and from them seep tales of crime and outrage revolting alike to good Americans and to good Mexicans."

The Times blames Americans, "to a degree at least," for Tia Juana conditions. "The principal patrons of Tia Juana's bars, dance halls, gambling hells and dives are Americans. It is American money which keeps Tia Juana alive as a plague spot on the border. To a degree at least, it is the demand of Americans for pleasure with the lid off which is responsible for those conditions."

IN-EC-TO

In Fifteen Minutes It Banishes Grey or Faded Hair and Reclaims
the Shade Desired. 18 Shades!

This is the tint that colors the organism of human hair so truly to nature that the coloring cannot be detected even under the closest scrutiny.

Inecto banishes PERMANENTLY grey, streaked or faded hair and reclaims the shade desired in FIFTEEN MINUTES, without lessening the lustre of the hair.

It works on an entirely safe and natural principle; it penetrates the hair fibre instead of the usual "painting" on the outside.

Because a woman must always look her best, the use of Inecto upon her hair is to her as much a matter of course as a touch of rouge or pat of powder on her cheeks.

You can buy Inecto at the White Cross in 18 shades. A case of four pairs of small bottle, complete with brush, opener and full directions, is $5.00.

Of Interest to Clubwomen

The entire program at the first presidents' council for the southern district Federation of Women's clubs held last Monday at Riverside, was presided over by Mrs. John Clarkson of this city, who is district parliamentarian. In the morning, the program was given over to fine arts and literature. Mrs. W. W. Crozier of Newport Beach and Miss Lolita Perrine of Laguna Beach being on the program.

Attendance was greatly increased for the afternoon, and Mrs. Clarkson was much impressed by the interest manifested in her subject, for which she was given one hour, but which was extended far beyond that period at the request of the presidents, chairman and other clubwomen present, showing that parliamentary usage can be made an interesting and profitable topic when properly handled. Mrs. Clarkson opened the program with a talk on club ethics. Questions and discussions were a feature of the afternoon.

A representative from the Los Angeles district, who was present in the interest of the next biennial convention to be held in Atlantic City, congratulated Mrs. E. E. Knight, southern district president, upon the attendance at the first meeting, saying that it took Los Angeles district many years to work up to the number present on Monday. Six range county clubs were represented, including the county president, Mrs. A. P. Nelson.

The next executive board meeting of the southern district will be held in Colton the fourth Thursday in March and the next presidents' council in April, place to be announced later.

HERMIT ARRESTED AND SENT TO JAIL

REEDLEY, Calif., Feb. 12.—Posing as a dead man to frighten away two small boys who approached his "hermit castle" proved the undoing of William Tucker, who is declared to have lived for a long time in a rudely constructed cave on an island of the Kings river, south of here. Fruit boxes were used as a roof and his cave looked like a pile of brush. Tucker declared that he has lived almost entirely on dried raisins, peaches and figs, which he has "found" in the vicinity. A shotgun and several other articles, recognized as property stolen from homes in the vicinity, caused a vagrancy charge to be placed against him to which he pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to four months in jail. Tucker was captured following an extensive search, after the boys had reported that they had seen a "dead man." Tucker said he was 60 years old, but his age was estimated at 40.

Urges Public Not To Be Deceived By Child Labor

Child labor in the United States continues even after nation-wide publicity and appeal. It was actually believed in one state, where a referendum vote was taken in 1924 on the federal child labor amendment, that the proposed law would forbid a parent from requiring a child to wipe the dishes or run on an errand to the corner store.

But child labor, legislatively speaking, really means hard toil in factories and fields, long hours and pitiful wages. It means that in 1925 more than a million children are working at tasks that wear them out, at ages when they should be in school and at play and growing into healthy youth. The stories of child laborers ten years old, and eight, and even six, are authentic.

Goods produced in part by child labor in one state are sold and used in all the states. All people are using goods that children help to make, even down to wrapping paper and string. Because the state laws forbidding and regulating child labor are good, bad or indifferent, and because the children in states with the weakest laws need instant protection, a federal amendment is a necessity. Such an amendment is now before the states for ratification. A few states have ratified it. More states have voted against it. It awaits action in other states. The amendment is primarily for the children. But it will give needed work to grown people. Let the children learn and play and grow.

SWING OPPOSES WORK PROPOSAL TO ALTER BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—New suggestions of Secretary of the Interior Work, relative to disposition of power from the proposed Boulder canyon dam project and proposals relating to the all-American canal will be opposed by Senator Johnson and Representative Swing.

Suggesting several amendments to carry out his original recommendations, Secretary of Interior Work informed the house irrigation committee that the revised bill for protection and development of the lower Colorado river constituted a "feasible and workable" measure. Work's report amplified his original suggestions, some of which were omitted in drafting the bill, which provides for construction of a dam at Boulder canyon, under a federal bond issue, and for federal government control of power, water and other privileges.

The most important amendment proposed by Work was in connection with the all-American canal. His suggestion was that the bill be changed to leave optional the construction of this canal, in event that Mexico is unwilling to modify the terms of a concession made by that country to an American corporation relating to the transportation of water through the present Imperial valley canal. An amendment is also suggested to remove the granting of preference right to electrical energy developed at the dam to certain organizations. The report recommends that the allocation, sale and delivery of this energy be left to the discretion of the secretary of the interior, after an opportunity has been had for exhaustive consideration of the public interest and the equities and needs of the applicants.

As to a proviso in the revised bill which suggests two alternatives to the method originally proposed for generating and disposing of electrical energy, namely, the alternatives of leasing of generator units or the leasing of water for the development of power, Work said that, inasmuch as the alternatives are left wholly to later determination, thus permitting further study, it was deemed unnecessary at this time to discuss the relative merits of the alternatives in the bill.

SYMPATHIZER WITH ITALY KILLS SELF

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—Humiliated by her expulsion from Berlin's most exclusive theatrical club and despairing at a quarrel with her sister, Maria Orska, noted stage star, Marchesa Gabriele Disera committed suicide.

The expulsion followed a demonstration by the German woman (married to an Italian) in favor of Italy. After defending Italy's course toward Germany in the recent international dispute over South Tyrol, Marchesa Disera effusively shouted: "Long live Mussolini!"

Maria Orska upbraided her for her pro-Italian spirit and for the demonstration, whereupon the marchesa killed herself.

Maria Orska is one of the most famous women of the Berlin stage. Strikingly beautiful, with black hair and almost uncannily brilliant eyes, she has developed a large following for plays of a weird or shocking nature. Among her great successes have been "Erdgeist," "Die Duechse der Pandora," and "John the Baptist."

She was formerly married to a rich Berlin banker, while her sister, 25 years of age, made a successful Italian match.

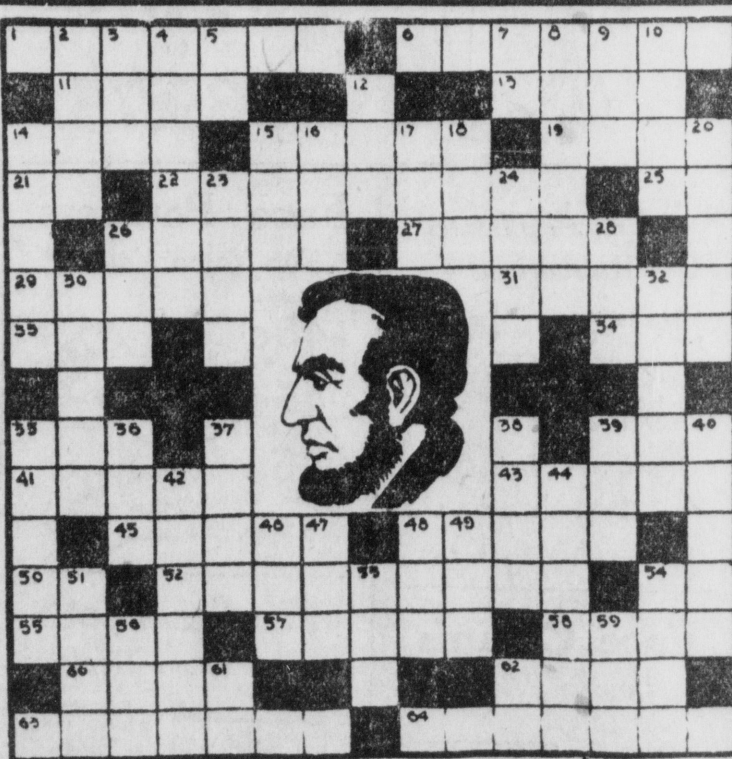

Wyoming was the first state to give the franchise to women.

In England 23,000 women are employed as electrical workers.

GIRL RESERVES OF SANTA ANA AT CONFERENCE

Nine girls, representing Girl Reserve clubs of the Santa Ana Y. W. C. A., this afternoon attended the mid-winter Southern California High School Girl Reserve conference in the Long Beach Y. W. C. A. building. Girls also attended from the Girl Reserve clubs of Garden Grove, Anaheim and Orange.

The conference opens today and closes at noon Sunday. There will be about 350 girls in attendance from the various High School Girl Reserve clubs of Southern California. Problems relating to individual girl life and to club technique will be taken up in the program, planned and executed by the girls themselves.

The girls of Orange county have had, as their special responsibility, the planning of the banquet for Saturday night. Miss Georgia Belle Walton, of Santa Ana, will give the special musical numbers for the banquet program, toasts will be given by girls from the various clubs and the main speaker will be Mrs. Harold Landreth, of Pasadena, a member of the Girl Reserve committee of the National Y. W. C. A. Sunday morning the girls, in uniform, will attend, in a body, one of the Long Beach churches and have a part in the service.

Girls attending from Santa Ana are Edith Cleland, Vida Powers, Lucille Goodrich, Wilma Hoy, Jean Nicholson, Clara Kate Owen, Thelma Glasscock, Edith McFadden, Miss Phyllis White, adviser of the Presbyterian church, G. R. club, and Miss Nancy Elder, Santa Ana Y. W. C. A. secretary, will accompany the girls and Mrs. Edwin McFadden, adviser of the United Presbyterian club, will go to Long Beach tomorrow for the remainder of the conference.

KIWANIS CLUB OFFICERS HOLD ANAHEIM MEET

Officials of Kiwanis clubs in the fourth division, embracing Orange county and Whittier, passed a profitable afternoon and evening in Anaheim yesterday, when they attended the conference of officials late in the afternoon and a banquet at Elks club in the evening.

Charles E. Reinhart, of San Diego, governor of the district, was present at both meetings, as was also Huber Winder, of Riverside, trustee of Kiwanis International. At the afternoon conference, the district governor discussed with officers various features of club activities, impressing, particularly upon presidents, the necessity of keeping committees active.

The banquet in the evening, with women present, was not as well attended as it would have been had it not been for the rain. By actual count, 89 were at the dinner meeting.

With Homer G. Ames, president of the Anaheim club, extending welcome to the officers and visitors, the meeting was turned over to Roscoe Young, of Anaheim, lieutenant governor for this district, who introduced the participants on the program. The program consisted of vocal selections by Reg Taylor, community singing, led by Dr. Wickett, and addresses. The latter were delivered by Reinhart; Winder, who spoke briefly on general subjects; H. G. Nelson, Santa Ana, "The Underprivileged Child"; W. T. Boise, dean of the Fullerton Junior college, "Vocational Guidance for School Children," and Dick Edwards, of Whittier, "Honesty and Business Ethics."

More than half the expenditures of the people of this country for foreign fruits in 1924 were for bananas. The value reached $22,074,410.

SLAYS GIRL

Walter Palmer, 23 and married, is held as the slayer of Ethel Sullivan, 17, pretty nurse maid at a fashionable home in Bluefield, W. Va. He was arrested after a wild taxicab ride through the streets. With a gun he stood off a crowd and forced the driver to speed through the city. Palmer was captured when the cab was wrecked.

FOE OF ROWDIES

It hasn't been since J. B. Ruschetti was employed as town marshal. Before that, folk in Port Bragg were harassed continuously by small boys who broke windows, stole their newspapers, "lifted" their milk, and played with arguments.

"You'll probably have to send them all to reform schools, but give us peace," the citizens told Ruschetti when they hired him. Ruschetti arrested 30-odd boys. Then he talked to them. He got the boys to form a club—to go in for athletics, hiking, and other "safe and sane" pleasures. Soon other boys, who were not bad, wanted to join.

And now the club has a membership of several hundred. The boys call it "Barney's club." And the burghers of Port Bragg, unlike the burghers of Hamelin Town, haven't refused to pay the Pied Piper. They've increased his salary.

Wife Asks Divorce
Mrs. Ora M. Andrews charged her husband, Edwin E. Andrews, with desertion and non-support, in a divorce complaint on file today in superior court. Attorney Morris A. Cain, of Santa Ana, represents her. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews married in Tulare, in 1923, and separated in Orisk, Tulare county, in 1924.

Non-Support Charged
Mrs. Edith Y. Thelan has asked divorce from Horace P. Thelan, on grounds of alleged non-support, in a suit on file in superior court through Attorneys Burke, Camarillo and Herron, Los Angeles. Mrs. Thelan asked custody of their son, aged 13, stating that her husband spends most of his time in the mountains and desert of Inyo county, and would be unable to take proper care of the boy. The Thelans were married in San Bernardino, in 1911, and separated last August 2.

Waited 19 Years
Desertion and non-support were charges contained in a divorce complaint on file today in superior court, with Mrs. Anna E. Berry Caulfield as plaintiff against William H. Caulfield. Attorney Morris A. Cain, of Santa Ana, is counsel for the plaintiff. The Caulfields were married in Santa Ana in 1906 and separated May 1, 1907. Mrs. Caulfield waited 19 years before starting divorce proceedings.

Wife Asks Divorce
Mrs. Ethel M. Conway, represented by Attorney Guss Hagenstein, of Fullerton, today had a suit on file in superior court asking divorce from Wesley I. Conway on grounds of alleged desertion. They were married in Santa Ana in 1911 and separated in 1913.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions Social Items Fashion Hints

After Dinner Bridge Played to Obligation Of Spring Rain

VER a favorite rendezvous for Santa Ana's social set, the Country club was unusually inviting last night as it offered cozy retreat from downpour from cloudy skies, to scores of guests assembled at the invitation of Dr. and Mrs. J. I. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Metzger.

The host quartet received their guests in the blaze of a bright fire crackling on the hearth. Tables were grouped in the warmth of the blaze, twenty-seven being required for the diners. Guests sought their places in informal groups, and chatted through the succeeding courses of a delectable dinner. A blue and gold color scheme was maintained, candles centering each table, being tied with tulle bows in contrasting color.

Large as was the crowd, friends were given ample opportunity for greeting each other, for the hosts had evolved a means of moving at their ridge games which followed dinner, whereby the winning female players progressed and the men retrogressed. Extremely attractive prizes wrapped in blue and gold, were awarded Mrs. Alex Brownridge, Mrs. Harry Duckett and Mrs. H. J. Forgy, scoring high, second and low, respectively, and Messrs. Jack Olivari, O. R. Winckler and Fred Parsons, score makers among the men.

Miss Virginia Metzger and Mrs. C. V. Davis aided, Dr. and Mrs. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Metzger in dispensing their delightful hospitality.

Thimble Club Holds Friendly Session

Mrs. Bessie McDonald was hostess to the members of the Martha Washington Thimble club Wednesday afternoon at her home, 918 Winter street. Sweet peas formed dainty decorations and the time was happily passed with needlework of various kinds and interesting chat.

Late in the afternoon, Mrs. McDonald served delectable refreshments, carrying out a Valentine motif in her napkins and place cards.

The members are planning to go to jail for their next meeting, for Mrs. Sam Jernigan, wife of the sheriff of Orange county, will be hostess and the members are anticipating a feast on the prisoners' fare of vegetable stew, which will be on the "menu" for that day.

Those present Wednesday included Mesdames G. E. Peters, C. E. Jasper, W. W. Chandler, May Foster, Florence Somerville, Sarah House, Leota Allen, Mamie O'Donnell, J. J. Zimmerman and Sam Jernigan.

S. A. Woman's Club

Mrs. Walter L. Moore, president of Santa Ana Woman's club, conducted an interesting meeting of the board of directors at her home, 501 East Fourth street. Many important club matters were discussed and in the late afternoon the hostess served a dainty tea menu on individual trays. Members present in addition to the hostess and president, Mrs. Moore, were Mesdames Henry Diers, I. D. Annis, R. Ruth Tiffany, J. C. Clark, Marian Brett, Louise Leslie, W. S. Chandler, William Whitehead, C. T. Wells and Dr. Evelyne Peo.

Window Shopping?

TWO well dressed ladies met in front of the Smart Shop. "Something new, my dear?" asked the first. "Yes," was the answer, "always something new in these attractive windows."

Window shopping ceases to be spoken of lightly where the Smart Shop is concerned. Often changed, the beautiful things pass before your eyes in a style review—and a "value review."

Window shop here often.

Valentine Dinner Has Pleasant Background Of Beach Cottage

OTORING to Balboa Wednesday night, the lively young matrons and maids of the A. D. club had the unique pleasure of a Valentine dinner at the Earl Morrow bungalow on the Bay front.

The table was centered with pointillist whose rich color was in harmony with the scarlet hearts dotting the table linen and with the Valentine place cards. The dinner menu offered baked potatoes with the toothsome, juicy steaks and ended with ice cream, cake and coffee.

After dinner, the party enjoyed the big fire crackling on the hearth with Victrola music as an accompaniment. Dancing and singing added their merriment to the evening in the pretty beach home so kindly placed at the disposal of the club by Mr. and Mrs. Morrow.

Enjoying the delightful event were Mesdames Olive Seba, Verna Campbell, Elise Harris, Bess Mathis, Eloise Ray, Sarah Rorman, Miss Amy Larson, Miss Gladys Young, Little Miss Peggy Seba, and Mrs. Hazel Hargett, guest of the evening.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Eloise Ray at her South Main street home.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Congregational
Gowned in costumes eloquent of a by-gone day, members of the south-west section of the Congregational Women's union assembled Wednesday at the C. M. Rowland home, 708 South Birch street, to enjoy a Lincoln program.

Among the charming costumes was a wedding gown of soft white silk worn fifty years ago by an aunt of E. M. Blake and donated yesterday by Mrs. Blake. Another striking creation was a merino dress worn by Mrs. Archie Gorton whose mother had been its first wearer. These with countless other frocks, quaint and beautiful, gave a fitting background for the program of the Great Emancipator and the old time songs that followed, under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Chapman, section leader.

Mrs. Rowland was assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. J. L. Wiseman. During the social hour, appetizing refreshments were enjoyed by the score of members and four visitors present.

Spurgeon Memorial
At all future sessions of Spurgeon Memorial Missionary society, the members will have the pleasure of using their own very handsome mahogany upright piano, for at Wednesday's all-day meeting in the church social rooms, the new society president, Mrs. B. W. Glasner, made a present of the instrument to the society for its use henceforth. Pleasure and appreciation of the gift on the part of the society members was difficult to express, as are all things which come from the bottom of the heart. The piano was put into immediate use for the musical part of the interesting program.

The morning hours were devoted to Bible and mission study led by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Whitted. Following a pleasant social hour and luncheon, the afternoon business session was directed by Mrs. Glasner and a literary program was led by Mrs. George Dickson on the topic of "The Gospel Message for the Homeland."

This was followed by an interesting discussion on the question, "In the light of the ideals of Jesus, what do you think of the United States as a field for His gospel message?"

Four fond grandmothers and one equally proud mother, offered new names to the baby division of the juvenile department, little Miss Virginia Rhodes, baby daughter of the pastor of the church, the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, and Masters William Brandon Hauzton, Robert Blakely Perry, Lester George Jones and Jack Donan.

Arrangements were made for the annual missionary conference to be held at Spurgeon Memorial church, April 14, 15 and 16.

G. G. G. Class
A pleasant variation of the usual routine monthly meetings, was afforded G. G. G. classmembers of the United Brethren Sunday school when the social committee planned a surprise for the class husbands.

The surprise took the form of a play and the adult class, also invited to enjoy the affair, responded almost to a member. The little play itself was highly enjoyed, all agreeing that the characters were splendidly assigned. Parts were taken by Mesdames H. A. Colby, Clark Dennis, C. E. Clark, O. M. Harrison, J. H. Noble, Arthur Hervey and Tom Lacey.

After the entertainment, home-made apple pie a la mode and coffee were served. The following enjoyed the occasion, Messrs and Mesdames L. Harter, P. L. Brock, F. Jones, C. A. Colby, Steemen, Clark Dennis, H. A. Colby, Tom Lacey, O. M. Harrison, Percy Gam-mell, J. H. Noble, C. H. Imm, C. E. Clark, Mesdames Wright, Strickland, Lees, Spencer, Weaver, Schorla, Campbell, Kester, Bartlett, Deakin, Tyler, Brown, Kingsbury, Burgess, Robinson and Hervey, and about a score of children.

Birthday Joys Shared With Children and Grandchildren

ITH CHILDREN and grand children gathering to offer their love and homage, Mrs. J. T. Lloyd of Orange was made a honor guest Tuesday night, at a surprise party arranged in celebration of her eighty-second birthday. The anniversary itself will come on Valentine day, but it would not have been possible for all members of the family to meet then, so it was celebrated on the earlier date when all but one could be present.

Mrs. Lloyd was lured from home on some pretext, and when she returned in the early evening, it was to be greeted by a merry group, offering her their birthday wishes. The only missing member of the family circle was one daughter, Mrs. Wallace Williams of Idaho, too far away to join in the happy reunion.

As the evening of reminiscences and fellowship advanced, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The birthday cake was especially attractive with its Valentine decorations instead of the customary candles. The climax of the happy surprise was reached when Mrs. Lloyd was presented with a handsome wrist watch from the members of the family circle.

Gathered to celebrate the birthday event were Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lloyd and their young people, Ralph, Katherine, Kenneth and Francis; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Duckett and their children, Alton, Marjorie, Ethel and Audrey William Lloyd, of Minot, North Dakota; Mrs. Annie Shields and sons, Herbert and Lloyd; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Rendeers and son, Cornelius; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Paine and daughter, Edith; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garrett of Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Campbell, Miss Verga Trumbleland and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Lloyd, of Torrance.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
Orange county alumni of the University of California are urged to telephone their dinner reservations for Monday night at St. Ann's Inn, to Fred Forgy tomorrow at his office number 2222. The dinner will be a 7 o'clock event to be followed by a short program and dancing. Members of Southern Branch are expected to attend also and are asked to make reservations through Mr. Forgy.

Miss Effie Douglas, leader of the arts and crafts section of Ebells, has announced that according to plan adopted at the latest meeting the arts and crafts section will meet on the first and third Mondays of the month commencing next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Little Light Bearers of the First Presbyterian church will enjoy a Valentine party tomorrow afternoon at the church at 2:30 o'clock. Games and recitations will be a part of the program and Mrs. Ridley Smith will tell the missionary story.

Congregational church of which J. A. Cranston is teacher met at the church bungalow Tuesday evening for dinner. About 30 were present, including guests.

After a sumptuous meal, Mrs. Cranston was presented with a large birthday cake, in honor of her anniversary. The cake was cut, and served to all.

All took part in telling many humorous jokes and stories and then the pastor, the Rev. Perry Schrock, with appropriate remarks presented both Mr. and Mrs. Cranston with beautiful bouquets on behalf of the class.

After the presentation of the flowers, they gathered in the parlor and later Mrs. Florence Hicks played snatches of 23 old familiar hymns for a guessing contest. This was followed by a short business meeting and election of officers. Mrs. Haynes was elected president and Mrs. C. W. Leamer, vice president for the coming year.

Scores of Guests Are Pleased with Charm Of Ebells Party

Characterized by Ebells members and friends as being quite the prettiest card party of the club season, yesterday's Valentine event sponsored by the second household economics section, attracted a crowd that filled the peacock room and overflowed into the lounge.

St. Valentine ruled the afternoon, and his devices of hearts and arrows adorned white card table covers and formed festoons from each of the lighting fixtures. As guests entered the corridor, their tickets were left at a heart-decorated table with Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mrs. Ray Miles and Mrs. A. N. Zerman. Valentine score cards were selected by Mrs. Emory D. White.

Both bridge and 500 were played, and at the close of the session, holder of high score at each table received a daintily painted flower pot filled with home-made candles from which arose a candy nosegay.

The pretty gifts were made under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Walker while those making the delicious candies were Mrs. Bruce Monroe, section leader, Mrs. J. C. Lamb, Mrs. Ralph Smedley, Mrs. Arthur Shauer.

The tables with their attractive covers, were arranged by Mrs. C. D. Brown. Guests returned to them in little groups for the enjoyment of tea and most delectable little cookies served under the direction of Mrs. G. P. Campbell. Section members also made the cookies, Mrs. H. J. Selway, Mrs. Ray Miles, Mrs. Marshall Keeler and Mrs. L. M. Forgy being the cooks par excellence.

As chairman of general arrangements, Mrs. Jank Olivari with her committee members, Mrs. Robert G. Tuthill and Mrs. Fred Rowland, were complimented generously on the successful afternoon which was enjoyed by approximately 250 guests, and which will net a splendid sum for the treasury.

The Snap Brim and the Set Brim Decreed!

BRIMS with less curl will be shown on a large number of the new shapes, according to the American Hatter. They are flatter and roll upward at the edge, in the far-western manner.

NEW YORK is seeing a great many colored bands on felt hats, a leading style-gathering organization reports. Silk and flannel are used, the latter in either striped or plaid designs and sewn in the puggaree drape.

FOR the young man in college or of college age, the thing is a raw-edged gray felt hat worn with center crease and with the brim turned down all around." Merchanteer, in Men's Wear.

VANITY Fair recommends a wider shaped derby, with full crown, to wear with the new wider shouldered clothes. There is little doubt that the black bowler will have more of a following than in recent seasons.

OIL INDUSTRY IN COUNTY IS 29 YEARS OLD

PLACENTIA, Feb. 12.—Yesterday was the 29th birthday of the oil industry of Orange county. The first successful oil well in the county was brought in on a lease near Placentia on February 11, 1897. E. L. Doherty now nationally known oil magnate, drilled the well, history reveals.

Orange county, up to that time, had been considered fair territory for stock raising. Agriculture had thrived where water could be brought to the land. But the hidden wealth that lay under the soil was an unknown source of wealth, its existence suspected only by a few.

When Doherty began erecting his derrick on land now owned by the Petroleum Development company, a subsidiary of the Santa Fe Railway company, his work was regarded by the inhabitants of the district as that of an ideal dreamer. The hole was drilled near the present site of Placentia. A 500-barrel producer came in at about 700 feet.

Doherty drilled several other shallow holes but failed to tap the real heavy producing sands. It remained for the Graham-Loftis company to perfect methods of deep drilling and to reach deeper and richer sands.

Further perfection of the methods devised by the Graham-Loftis company brought about the development of wells as deep as 4000 feet and the bringing in of 20,000-barrel producers. One of the earliest of these deep producers is still flowing with a record of 5,000,000 barrels to date, it is said.

APPROVAL OF WORLD COURT EXPRESSED BY SPEAKERS AT G. O. P. COMMITTEE MEETING

Approval of the world court was expressed at a meeting of the Republican County Central committee, in Ketter's cafe, last night. At this meeting, too, indorsement was given by the committee, favoring the appointment of Jack Horner as postmaster in Fullerton and of Mrs. Florence Matthews as postmaster at Brea.

Among those who spoke on the world court were Dr. R. A. Cushman, chairman of the committee, Dr. J. D. Thomas, John Osterman and W. E. Alexander.

Horner was one of three applicants for the position of postmaster in Fullerton, who were recommended by the civil service commission. Horner is an American Legion leader and was reported as having an excellent standing in his community. It may be three months before Horner takes office in Fullerton, as the committee last night, with Horner's approval, asked Congressman Phil D. Swing to make arrangements with the post office department so that Mrs. William Irwin, widow of the former postmaster, may remain in charge of the office, where she now is serving as acting postmaster, until June 1.

There was no division upon the recommendation for Mrs. Matthews for postmaster in Brea. It is expected that Mrs. Matthews will be appointed soon.

Present at last evening's meeting were:

Dr. R. A. Cushman, chairman; E. R. Abbey, secretary; secretary, Charles D. Swanner, E. T. Mateer, Z. B. West Jr., S. M. Reinhaus and Hugh Girard, all of Santa Ana; Lew Blodgett, Huntington Beach; W. E. Alexander, C. E. Barr, Anaheim; R. T. Davies, Samuel Collins, Fullerton; C. L. Crumrine, La Habra; Dr. J. D. Thomas, Olive; William Feldner, Orange; Harry Williamson, Costa Mesa; John Osterman, Tustin.

"The world court was indorsed in two national platforms of the party," said Dr. Cushman, "and because of that the world court became a party objective. I for one, believe that President Coolidge is to be commended for having gone ahead with this project, and this committee, as a Republican committee, ought to stand solidly with the administration on this matter."

COLLEGE CLUB HEARS TALK ON NOTED AUTHOR

The first lecture programmed by the Women's University club, delivered last night to a goodly-sized audience of college women, in the Ebell lounge, by Dr. Lyman Bryson, of the extension department of the University of California, proved interesting and valuable.

The subject of Dr. Bryson's address was Joseph Conrad, who bears the well-earned reputation of being the greatest English prose artist, is not an Englishman, but a Pole, coming from an old family of Polish nobility, his father and mother having been exiled through the former Russian czarist system, and both dying as a consequence. Conrad has written two books on this subject.

The speaker said that many persons do not know how to read Conrad and begin with the wrong book, possibly "The Golden Arrow," which was not a success. Neither was Conrad's second book, "The Outcast of the Islands," a success, he said. In order to understand and enjoy Conrad, Mr. Bryson asserted, one needs introduction, and guidance and must read his books aloud to get the beauty of the words. Conrad took great delight in moulding.

Conrad, the speaker said, did not know a word of English until he was 12 years of age, when he realized his great idea of freedom by becoming a sailor.

Conrad was not a writer of the sea, but of the sailors and of people of whom he had memories and by means of whom he wished to bring before his readers an essential brotherhood, to cement men of all nations.

Dr. Bryson divided Conrad's career into three lives and said that until 1915, when he was 60 years old, Conrad practically was unknown. It was at that time that the United States "discovered" him through his book, "Chance."

After he had "arrived," the author did not care for praise, honor and pay. He sold the full rights of his works, then six books, for $750 and lived to see his manuscripts auctioned for $106,000.

Mrs. Edith Thatcher, club president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Robert Northcross, chairman of the evening, introduced Mr. Bryson. Miss Elizabeth Parslow closed the program with two instrumental numbers, "Valse Brillante," by Maria Zucca, and a Chopin Etude.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a spoonful or two of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and throughout the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

CREDIT MAKES THE MAN

No person can do anything better than assume obligations (providing of course they are within his means). The right kind of obligations compel you to live within your means—they teach you thrift—the art of saving and managing your income—you become accustomed to regularly set aside a portion of your income to meet your obligations and thereby learn to get along on the balance of your income—you have formed a habit—and you find it easy to always put a little away, and so accumulate a bank account.

AGRICULTURAL EXPANSION WARNED AGAINST IN LATE FARM DEPARTMENT REPORT

Although the farming industry is now in the best general position since 1920, any general expansion in production this year would tend to place farmers in a less favorable economic position than at present, the department of agriculture points out, in its farm outlook report.

There is little likelihood of increased domestic and foreign demand for farm products, the department says, the situation indicating a possible decrease in demand the latter part of the year.

No reduction in farm wages may be expected and the cost of farm equipment probably will remain at the present levels. Sufficient funds will be available for agricultural credit in most regions at about the same rates as in 1925.

A slightly smaller world crop of wheat is indicated, with world stocks at the beginning of the new crop year not burdensome. Domestic stocks are likely to be small. If an acreage of hard spring wheat equal to that of last year is planted and average yields are secured, export and domestic prices may be expected to be more in line with those in other exporting countries than at present.

Low Prices Likely
Corn acreage, the same as in 1925, with average yields, will be sufficient to meet feeding and commercial requirements as fully as in 1925. If last year's oats acreage is maintained, relatively low prices are likely to continue unless yields are greatly reduced.

The immediate and long time outlook for cattle is favorable. A reasonably constant demand for beef is anticipated. The number of steers is the lowest in many years, but present breeding stocks apparently are large enough to supply as much beef as it will pay cattle producers to raise.

The outlook for the hog industry appears favorable, with prices maintained at high levels. The number of hogs in areas of commercial production is the smallest since 1921 and for the entire country the smallest in many years. The present strong domestic demand for pork products seems likely to continue through most of the year.

Indications are that 1926 will be a good year for the sheep industry, although profits are likely to be less than during the last two years. There may be a gradual slackening in the demand for lambs and wool in late 1926, but further increases in production may be undertaken profitably in some sections, as contrasted with alternative enterprises.

A cotton crop as large as that of 1925 would sell for reduced prices. World production has exceeded the rate of world consumption during the last two seasons and stocks have increased. Further material increases in stocks easily might make them burdensome. There is no marked indication that the mill demand will exceed that of the present season.

Dairy Industry Strong
The dairy industry, as a whole, is in relatively strong position, and some slight increase in numbers of young stock during the next two years may be desirable. Should the present trend in foreign production continue upward, however, and consumption in Europe fail to increase, foreign competition in our markets will be an important price factor.

Some increases in flax acreage may be undertaken, inasmuch as domestic production is much below domestic requirements, even though the price may be lower. Both the export and domestic demand for barley next year seems likely to be less than in the last year, and consumption in Europe is expected to be high quality malting types, produced on the Pacific coast.

There is danger that potato growers in the late producing states may plant too heavily. Increased acreage of more than 10 per cent is inadvisable.

Sugar cane and sugar beet producers may see some improvement in prices for the 1926 crop. There is a tendency toward increased rice acreage in leading countries, and the present domestic demand may not continue next year.

Increasing consumption of cigarettes is maintaining prices for cigarette types of tobacco at a fairly high level which, in the absence of increased production, should continue for the 1926 crop. Chewing, snuff and dark export types are being unremunerative prices and readjustment of acreage is advisable.

The market for poultry during the first six months of 1926 probably will be better than during the same period in 1925, but prices for eggs may be lower, because of increased production.

Expect Citrus Increase
Further plantings of citrus fruit should not be made without serious consideration, inasmuch as, barring freezes, a very material increase in production is likely. A gradual improvement in the apple industry may be expected. New plantings of commercial peach orchards are inadvisable, except under the most favorable conditions of production and marketing. New planting of grapes is undesirable.

Sweet potato growers are cautioned not to overplant and additional acreage of truck crops should be taken on only after careful study of accessible markets. There is danger that present high prices of cabbage will induce growers in the late states to increase acreage too much. The market outlook for onions during the next few months is discouraging.

Pair Arrested For Alleged Car Theft

Vernon Pee, 21, and Royce Van Wewalker, 19, Santa Ana men, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Ed McClellan and Ray Wallace. They are being held in the county jail on a grand larceny charge. The men are alleged to have stolen an automobile in Santa Ana about two years ago. They recently returned here from Texas.

The average railroad tie, in its natural state, lasts about seven and one-half years; if treated with preservative, about 15 years.

ONE ANSWER TO THE QUESTION

Santa Ana, Feb. 11, 1926.
Editor Register: Editorial in today's issue on Why Do Orange County, and Santa Ana in Particular, Not Get Any More of the Tourist Business Than We Do?

The biggest reason is that 95 per cent of the tourists arrive Los Angeles FIRST, and they at once get advance information from 1,000,000 people to steer clear of Santa Ana and Orange county if they don't want to stay in jail for 5 days or more.

Now if you don't think this is correct, you just go to Los Angeles and mention that you are from Santa Ana, and seven people out of ten will say, "Well, so you are from that burg where they put you in jail for just driving through town."

Now you may talk harbor, climate, beautiful city, good schools, etc., till your tongue hangs out, but first you have to get into people's minds that this is a place they are safe in coming to, without a threat of going to jail.

In our paper, just last evening, another threat was made which will get wide publicity, and will do our fair city untold damage. Not for a minute am I holding up for speeding, but there is not another county in the state which has such a reputation as ours has for jail, jail, JAIL. Now most people don't like that, and I think you will find that 99 per cent of our trouble of not getting tourist business comes from our fine jail publicity.

No, I'm not a crank. I just happen to be out quite a bit and hear our neighbors talk. So take this for what it is worth, but if you want tourists cut out your jail talk.

Yours respectfully,
W. R. DuBOIS,
Second and Sycamore.

AS TO FISHING FACILITIES

To The Editor—If my memory serves me correctly, the 16th of February is the day set to vote on extending the Balboa Main street pier out 500 feet. As I understand this project, the promoters are doing it, thinking that if they build out 500 feet farther it will give Balboa as good a fishing pier as Newport has.

This is where they are mistaken. The reason Newport pier is such a good place to fish, the pioneers, lumbermen and sailors of Newport discovered that fishing point 60 years ago. I was told by some of them 38 years ago that point was the stilt water on the ocean front from San Francisco to San Diego; and we have one pioneer sea captain living at East Newport who knows this to be a fact, and this man is none other than Captain William Kelley. And the late James McFadden and his brother, Robert McFadden, both pioneer when they built the Newport pier at that point that it was one of the finest fishing pools on the Pacific coast.

When the pier was finished they threw a lot of wheat into the ocean in front of it to call the fish up to it. If this was done at Main street pier it would improve the fishing at that point; then if the dealers in fishing tackle and bait would put a barge out 500 or 1000 feet, they could get what few fish might stay out that far.

It seems to me this plan would be sufficient for the time being, then when the present pier needed repairing let us property owners at Balboa build a horse-shoe pier starting at Main street and extending around to Palm, giving our friends on the Island a chance to grow directly to a pier with stability enough to stand for 50 years, and give five times as many boats anchorage; and it would give our neighbors at East Newport a chance to get to the entrance to the pier some 600 feet nearer, where they could walk around the shoe and get off at Main street, go to the post-office, take a boat at the pavilion, have a ride around the bay, and land at home again at East Newport.

It seems to me this would give one quite an outing.

I want to go on record as being against any more bonding until after the voting for the harbor bonds in April.

F. W. HARDING.

Deputies Jail Man On Perjury Charge

Wilbur Anderson, 22, Los Angeles, was arrested in Los Angeles yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Ray Wallace and Herman Zabel on a perjury charge, and returned to the Orange county jail last night.

The man is alleged to have sworn falsely as to the age of a 14-year-old girl, whom he married here four months ago, according to Wallace. The girl now is being held in the Los Angeles county detention home.

Anderson will be arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court tomorrow.

INSPECTION OF CANNED FRUITS TO BE STARTED

G. H. Hecke, director of the state department of agriculture, has started arrangements for the inspection of canned fruit in California, as the result of the passage of the new standardization law, which became operative January 1, according to information received today at the office of the county horticultural commissioner.

At a meeting of representatives of the canning industry of the state, in the offices of the California Development association, in San Francisco, yesterday, nearly 100 delegates were present from all parts of California, the dispatch received here said.

At that time, Hecke called for suggestions as to men who would be named inspectors to examine the fruit and determine its quality.

The new bill, passed by the last legislature, requires every canner to have embossed on the tin, when the grade is below standard, the word "second". This, it was explained, is for the protection of the housewife, who cannot but observe the word when opening the tin with an ordinary can opener.

The law was passed for the protection of the public, according to Hecke, so that low grade fruit could not be sold in the guise of fancy quality.

Fruit now is divided by the canning industry into six grades:
fancy, choice, standard, second, water and pie. No sugar is added to the water or pie grades and the seconds, while unusually good fruit, has been described as not the sort that the housewife would want to serve guests.

Civil War President

The life of Abraham Lincoln was compared with the ideals and service of service clubs in an address, delivered yesterday, at the meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club, by Attorney W. F. Menton.

Preceding the address, C. E. Stewart, program chairman, tested some of the members as to their knowledge of history by applying questions pertaining to the life of the Civil war president and answers clearly demonstrated that those to whom the questions were put were decidedly "rusty" on facts which they knew well when they were in school.

The year in which Lincoln was born and the county in Kentucky in which he first saw the light of day were answered incorrectly, as was the question as to the name of Lincoln's assassin.

Pointing to the purpose of clubs to be that of service to the communities in which they exist, Men-ton said that Lincoln probably had no more dominant characteristic than that of his desire to serve public interests. Reference was made to the martyred president's humor and sympathy, the speaker asserting that Lincoln frequently would stop in the midst of serious consideration of weighty public matters to tell or listen to a joke.
"His levity offered him mental breathing spells, as it were," Men-ton said, and pointed to the hour and a half passed at luncheon, each at club meetings, as being refreshing to tired business men.

"In Explanation" and "The Astra" were sung by Holly Lash Visel, as the special musical features of the program.

SPEAKERS FROM S. A. SCHOOL TO BE IN CONTEST

Will Enter International Oratorical Competition
On Constitution of U. S.

With the hope that a Santa Ana student will win the highest award, plans are going forward at the polytechnic high school for the participation of the school's representatives in the third annual national oratorical contest on the "Constitution of the United States."

The affair, this year, according to information sent to Principal D. K.
Hammond, is to be international in scope, contemplating finals in London, Paris, Berlin and Mexico City, with the grand finals in Washington, D. C.

The contest in Southern California is sponsored by the Los Angeles Times. The prizes for the Times finals, to be held in Los Angeles, have been fixed as follows:

First, $1000; second, $250; third,
$50, and fourth, $25.

Suitable prizes, in cash amounts of $25, $15 and $10, or, at the option of the first prize winner, a bust of Lincoln for the school he or she represents, are offered for the earlier eliminations. Alan Nichols has been named as contest manager by the Times for Southern California.

Principal Hammond disclosed that the Santa Ana participation would be directed by the English department, Miss Mae Murphy in charge.
Approximately a score of students are expected to enter the competition for the Santa Ana high school representation. The Orange county finals, to which every high school in the county is expected to send a speaker, have been set for April 1, at the principal said.

"We are heartily in accord with the idea of the national oratorical contest on the constitution," continued the educator. "We feel that a great deal of benefit is derived by the students in their contemplation of this document and their studies in connection with its interpretation and administration. We will do all we can to further the contest."

SINKING OF FREIGHTER IN MID-ATLANTIC AND RESCUE OF CREW TOLD IN PICTURES

An epic of the sea in pictures.
Made aboard the rescue ship Westphalia of the Hamburg-American line, the photographs tell the story of the heroic saving of 27 men from the disabled Dutch freighter, Alkaid, tossed in the grip of a furious Atlantic storm. As they found safety, food and comfort aboard the Westphalia, the Alkaid crew saw the ship dive to its last home.

Upper—As the Westphalia's life-boat fights its way back through turbulent waters, the Alkaid wal-lows helplessly, ready for its last plunge.

Center—Davy Jones' locker claims the hapless vessel from which more than a score of men have just been saved.

Lower—Twenty-seven imperiled sailors of the sinking Dutch freighter Alkaid climb to safety aboard the rescue ship Westphalia.
Left—Capt. Carl Graafls (right) of the Westphalia, and Capt. Jemke Roos, of the Alkaid, reaching New York, give each other a hearty handclasp.

The first valentines were very crude affairs, indeed. The paper was coarse and there was no attempt at ornamentation. They contained just a few lines of crude verse written in a stiff, conventional hand. As time went on,
valentines began to show more freedom and became more elaborate. The first developments consisted of circles of paper folded and cut into fanciful designs. Then came the angular valentine, with a tiny edge and four hearts
cut with points to the center,
and dainty sentiments written beneath the heart points. Others portrayed hearts with doves flying about them bearing scrolls on which the sentiments were inscribed.

EVOLUTION OF VALENTINE IS TRACED FROM EARLY TIMES

Observance of Day for Expression of Love Dates Back to Ancient Arcadia

FESTIVAL HONORS
GOD OF SHEPHERDS

Feast of Lupercus Celebrated by Romans After Danger of Wolves Passes

"Sweet Valentine! Be Mine!"
Sunday, February 14, is St. Valentine's day.

In the olden days, every man was his own cupid. As St. Valentine's day rolled around each year, the lusty swain was confronted with the task of sending his lady love some token of his esteem and affection. He might send, or deliver in person, some trinket of lace paper, a bit of verse, a red heart, a box of candy or a bouquet suitably heriboned and inscribed. Whatever it was, the choice was not an easy one,
for who is so exacting as he who loves.

It meant a trip to the shopping district and the necessity of making a selection from the varied offerings of the shopkeepers.

How different now!

Says It With Flowers
In these hectic days of the Charleston, the lusty swain goes to the telephone and bids the florist to "do his stuff." If the sweetheart lives at a distance, the telegraph company serves in the role of cupid.

The observance of St. Valentine's day has been traced back to Arcadia, whence it was introduced into Rome 60 years before the Trojan war. Authorities state that the ancient Romans, on the 14th of February, held a festival in honor of Lupercus, the god who watched over the shepherds and their flocks and protected the animals from the wolves. When the forests about Rome were cleared and there was no longer anymore danger from the wolves, the feast day in honor of Lupercus
continued to be observed.

The Christian priests, wishing the people to forget about their heathen gods, yet not liking to do away with all their sports, kept the feast, but called it St.
Valentine's day because they wished to remind the people of St. Valentine's holy life. They went even further than this and changed the nature of the festival by putting the names of the saints and martyrs into boxes to be drawn out. The name that each one drew was called his or her "valentine" and the holy life of that person was to be imitated throughout the year.

Development of Valentine
The first valentines were very crude affairs, indeed. The paper
was coarse and there was no attempt at ornamentation. They contained just a few lines of crude verse written in a stiff, conventional hand. As time went on,
valentines began to show more
freedom and became more elaborate. The first developments
consisted of circles of paper folded
and cut into fanciful designs. Then came the angular valentine, with
a tiny edge and four hearts
cut with points to the center,
and dainty sentiments written beneath the heart points. Others portrayed hearts with doves flying
about them bearing scrolls on which the sentiments were inscribed.

WARNING

Pain is the message conveyed to the brain by the nerves, which are the telephone wires of the body. Any undue pressure upon a nerve caused by injury or inflammation in any part will set these wires going and notify the individuals that something is wrong. These friendly warnings of nature should be heeded. When pain comes, therefore, we should not try to kill it, but to relieve it by removing the cause.

In order to remove the cause of your pain, sickness or disease, we must first find the location of that cause. This is done by taking an X-Ray picture of the bony segments of the spine where the nerves are subject to pressure as they emerge through the little openings. These nerves carry all of the nerve force or functional energy received by the heart, lungs, liver, stomach, kidneys, bowels, etc., and by viewing an X-Ray you can see the condition with your own eyes. This assures you that your case is not being guessed at.

Then with our hands alone we adjust these bony segments into their proper position. In this manner health has been permanently restored to hundreds of people suffering with such conditions as heart palpitation, liver trouble, biliousness, stomach and kidney trouble, chronic constipation and uncomfortable diseases which, if neglected, gradually become worse instead of better.

Chiropractic is not a cure-all, nor do we claim it to be such, but we do know that hundreds of sick people have been restored to health by MARTYN FREE X-RAY CHIROPRACTORS after they had become discouraged and about ready to give up hope.

If you are sick, don't say you have tried everything until you have consulted us about your case. For the next seven days the coupon below will entitle the bearer to a complete spinal examination, and without charge or obligation we will make a standard size X-Ray picture showing the exact cause of your trouble. If you are sick and wish to be well, just clip the

TWO SANTA ANAS JAILED IN ORANGE

Four men, two from Santa Ana, are in the Orange city jail today, as the result of arrests made last night and early this morning by Orange police.

Lem Rogers, 20, of Santa Ana, a mechanic, and H. C. McClure, 20, a laborer, were arrested at Orana at 2 o'clock this morning. Rogers is charged with possession of liquor and McClure with intoxication.
Alvin Stevens, 18, of Santa Ana, and George Hansen, 22, were arrested on Chapman avenue at 11:30 last night. Stevens is charged with transporting liquor and Hansen is held on suspicion of selling liquor.

The men will be given a hearing before City Recorder Ingle Saturday morning.

BAKERY LAWS ARE TO BE EXPLAINED

Technical points in the state law governing the maintenance and operation of bakeries, reported to be susceptible to different interpretations and therefore a source of misunderstandings and unintentional violations of law, will be explained at a conference to be held Tuesday evening, February 16, at 7:30 o'clock, in the offices of the county health department. It was learned today at the Hall of Records.

Invitations to attend the conference, signed by District Attorney

MORE LOOT OF RUG BURGLAR IS FOUND

To recover other stolen goods taken from Orange county homes by James Wilton, "rug burglar," Sheriff Sam Jernigan left here early today for San Bernardino, where several rugs and guns have been found.

Jernigan has worked steadily on the rug burglar's case for several months and although the man has been arrested and jailed, there still is some loot to be recovered.

The property found in San Bernardino yesterday was located on tips sent to the San Bernardino county sheriff's office by Jernigan several weeks ago. Sheriff W. A.
Shay, San Bernardino county, aided materially in locating some of the stolen property.

Alex P. Nelson and Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer, have been mailed to the bakery men in the county.

Presence of smallpox in nearby communities has caused the health department to give more attention to enforcement of all sanitary laws, particularly those relating to food handling, it was explained.

SLEEPING NEGRO DRIVER ARRESTED

When he is alleged to have fallen asleep at the steering wheel of his automobile, it is plunked along the highway near Orana, late yesterday afternoon, William Henderson, 44, negro butler, of Whittier, was arrested by State Motorcycle Officers Hurd and Yoder. The man is being held in the county jail on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated.

Hurd and Yoder saw a long line of cars proceeding slowly along the highway and wondered what caused

Building, Loan Body Here Makes Rapid Progress

Reports made by officers at the annual meeting, last night, of the Santa Ana Building and Loan association, revealed that the organization has made rapid progress since its institution here a little more than two and a half years ago. Loans exceed $300,000, it was shown, an increase of more than $100,000 being made during the year. Officers and directors were re-elected as follows:

O. H. Barr, president; L. L. Los-tutter, vice president; Cotton Mather, secretary; C. W. Rairdon,
C. S. Crookshank, George F. Munro.

Rancher Injured When Hit By Car

Galino Butterell, 25, San Joaquin ranch, was slightly injured at 7:30 last night, when he was run down by an automobile driven by Charles Levering, 19, 907 Highland street, according to a report filed at the police station. The accident occurred at the intersection of Fourth and Lacy streets. According to Levering's report, the man became confused while crossing the street and stepped in front of his machine.

The officers also claim that but for their timely presence, the man would have rammed his machine into an oil station at the intersection.

6-TUBE RADIO SET STOLEN FROM HOME

A complete radio set, valued at $200, was stolen from the home of Charles Freund, 3001 North Olive street, last night, between 8:30 and 9:30, by burglars, who entered the house by using a pass key in the rear door. The house was thoroughly ransacked.
A gold watch, valued at $25, and a chain and locket, valued at $10, also was taken from the house, according to a report made to the city police last night by Freund.

The radio was a six-tube set.
The loud speaker and batteries also were taken.

Stronger Market For Lima Beans Seen For State

A strengthened market for Lima beans, due to heavy demand from consumers and light importations of Madagascar limas is in sight for California growers, according to a wire just received from Manager R.
L. Churchill, of the California Lima Bean Growers' association, who now is in New York.

In view of Churchill's prediction, local growers, who have tried, since the recent rains, to sell their beans, have been advised to hold them for the present.

Prices locally are said to be as low as $10 for some beans, although the association is quoting $11 on regular limas, f. o. b. cars.

Stage and Screen

WEST COAST WALKER

"When the Door Opened," which opens today at the West Coast Walker theater, is a great melodrama. This screen version of James Oliver Curwood's thrilling novel fairly breathes the spirit of the north-west.

Reginald Barker, who directed with his usual skill, has succeeded in maintaining the suspense to the final smashing climax. He has brought in beautiful sweeps of northern scenery.

Jacqueline Logan, who plays the queenly granddaughter of the proud old French Canadian aristocrat, makes good use of her opportunities to demonstrate that she is not only beautiful, but a most capable actress. Her big police dog made almost as great a hit as she did herself.

Frank Keenan, is of course, always good. The role of the old aristocrat fits him well. Robert Kane is effective as the villain as is also Walter Chung, as a Chinese lackey boy.

Jack and June Laughlin and their company of stars will headline the vaudeville show. Included in the act will be Jack Laughlin, who produced "No, No Nannette" of the stock; June Laughlin, celebrated dancer and screen star; Madeline Hardy, whom everybody who knows the radio, knows, as she is the original radio girl. Another member of the cast is Mercedes, the greatest of all Charleston dancers.

Mark Linder and his company are seen in the absorbing Protean playlet, "The Criminal." It is a strong dramatic playlet which is far more than an ordinary sketch.

Ed and Marie Dale present a singing and talking comedy skit they call "Matrimony a la Carte," deriving its title through a matrimonial agency. This act is full of comedy dialogue and situations and is sure to hand a laugh to those who see it.

Almond and Hazel have a novelty act entitled, "A Vaudeville Surprise," which is replete with dancing and patter.

Myers and Nolan present a comedy offering entitled "Lyrics and Laughter" and live up to their billing with comedy songs and sayings.

YOST THEATER

Theatergoers who recall with joy the charming spirit of Mable Taliaferro in such well-remembered stage plays as "Polly of the Circus," "Springtime" and "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," will have an opportunity to see their favorite on the stage of the Yost theater tonight and tomorrow when Miss Taliaferro, one of the best known stage stars of the last decade, appears in "A Rose of Italy," a dramatic sketch by Kenneth Webb with interpolated songs by Roy Well, whose vaudeville and legitimate stages for several years.

"A Rose of Italy," as its title implies, is a romance of sunny Naples with the noted star in the role of an Italian girl who loves not wisely but too well. The climax of the stringently dramatic narrative is achieved by a series of "cutbacks," a method borrowed from motion pictures, and by which the dynamic drama of such popular mystery plays as "The Acquittal" and "On Trail," was developed.

Miss Taliaferro, whose stage and screen triumphs are far too numerous to chronicle, has been for years one of the foremost personalities on the American stage. Launching her career before the footlights at the age of two and reached the heights in Margaret Mayo's "Polly of the Circus." She was the first American legitimate star to abandon the boards and appear on the screen, her first motion picture vehicle being the perennial "Cinderella."

"The Song and Dance Man," a production featuring Tom Moore and Bessie Love, will be shown on the screen at the Yost.

WEST END THEATER

We have been noticing Agnes Ayres' work ever since she began her career and it is obvious that here at least is a woman who knows how to augment the appeal to her beauty of intelligence and a sense of appreciation of dramatic art.

Her latest achievement—"The Awful Truth"—is a further example of the charm and grace and real talent which she puts into her performances. We were at first a bit unwilling to go up to the West End theater to see this latest Elmer Harris offering because we were a bit afraid the screen version might not measure up well against the stage performance of Ina Claire, who delighted Broadway with the piece for two seasons.

But we were pleasantly surprised. Here indeed is a delightful picture—one of those things that trips along from a merry start to a happy end with all sorts of complications thrown in between to trouble the young married pair and add zest to the story.

Was a Good Judge of Liquor

"Since a young man I had a liking for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave me stomach trouble which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a gas factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try Mayr's, one dose will convince, and I am now as good as new." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

TICKET SALES FOR ARIEL NEAR CLOSE

Ticket sales drive for the Ariel year book, at the Santa Ana polytechnic high school, will close this week. It was announced today by Frank Alderman, business manager. The annual this year is to be the largest that has ever been issued by the local high schools. It will comprise 144 pages. The student editorial direction is in charge of Miss Kate Best.

All students with student body tickets are entitled to the book. The ticket campaign is being carried on in an effort to reach students in the school who do not own student tickets and who desire to buy the annual as the record of the year's activities.

Food for every fibre of the growing man—in a single dish

Winter and summer, that growing boy of yours uses energy with reckless abandon. When he races into the house, hurls his cap in every direction at once, and finally flings himself into his dinner chair—ah! you'd like a bit of his snap and fire for yourself, now wouldn't you?

Keep that schoolboy's vigor thriving. Direct his taste to health-giving, blood-making food. When he's a man he'll be glad you trained his appetite and digestion to work together for his good.

SHREDDED WHEAT is food for every fibre of that growing, going boy. Perfectly balanced by Nature, this whole wheat treat gives the body every food element it needs—in highly digestible form.

And it's good to eat!—hot or cold, or topped with preserves or jellies. Put an appetizing dish of SHREDDED WHEAT before your boy—and watch it go. And watch him grow.

STUDENTS TOLD OF CHANGES IN PERSONALITIES

At one instant a prim Bostonian lady and the next a mischievous child of six years.

Such was the case of the famous Miss Beauchamp's multiple personality, as related from first hand information by Mrs. Perry F. Schrock before a meeting of the Santa Ana Junior college psychology class.

At present, the college students are studying the subconscious mind and the activities of dual personalities are being discussed.

Mrs. Schrock was a trained nurse in the Sisters' hospital, of Boston, when Miss Beauchamp was placed under her supervision during a three-week period. She had the case under her direct observation and she watched the antics of her patient's multiple personality.

Instant changes were made from one character to another under the influence of music even so delicate as the wind in the trees, Mrs. Schrock explained.

As the child of six she was known as "Sally." She liked to play pranks on her other self. On one occasion she braided her hair in a pig tail because she knew that it would annoy the dignified Mrs. Beauchamp when she regained dominance.

By hypnosis, the patient was cured. Dr. Norman Prince, eminent psychologist, was in charge of the case. During the observation of Mrs. Beauchamp, traces of eight personalities were discovered. Mrs. Schrock saw three of the characters.

"Sally" didn't like to undergo hypnosis, Mrs. Schrock explained. Dr. Prince would pass his hands over her, saying, "You're getting cold, cold, cold, cold." Then, with a sharp blow on the cheek, he would order her to "wake up."

The cure was not completed under the nursing of Mrs. Schrock but later Dr. Prince succeeded in subordinating the abnormal personalities.

severe headaches, Curtis explained. He doesn't think so much of the present-day styles of hair cutting for women.

"About the only excuse the women have for short hair is that it is easier to comb and more restful on the head," the pioneer barber declared.

Curtis recalled when C. C. "Gavvy" Cravath, at one time National league home-run king, now living at Laguna Beach, got his start in the baseball whirl. About 1895 or 1896, the Western Union Telegraph company, he said, was located in a building back of the Old Commercial bank, operated by Messrs. Palmer, Mosbaugh and Galloway. Cravath was employed as a messenger boy for the telegraph company.

ELECT BOARD OF DIRECTORS AS STEP TOWARD MERGER OF 2 SANTA ANA ASSOCIATIONS

With election of a board of managers and directors of the newly organized Business Men's association, another step was taken today toward the merger of the Santa Ana Merchants and Manufacturers' association and the Orange County Credit association, an undertaking launched last month.

The election of directors, serving as an operating committee, was held at a joint meeting of the two boards of the M. and M. and the credit association.

Herbert P. Rankin, president of the Rankin Dry Goods company, was named chairman. The office of vice chairman went to F. C. Blauer, well known Santa Ana grocer, and Harry L. Hanson, assistant cashier of the First National bank, was made treasurer.

In addition to these, the board of directors of the new organization will include Albert F. Hill, president of S. Hill and Son, hardware dealer; R. A. Emison, of the Santa Lumber company; N. E. Lentz, Barr Southern Counties Gas company; W. Whitson, Whitson Lumber company; Stanley A. Clem, Santa Ana Lumber company; J. Robert Speed, Enterprise Publishing company; O. N. Robertson, Robertson Electric corporation, and S. E. Tingley, Tustin Lumber company.

Ruddy Gets Appointment.
R. Earl Ruddy, until recently secretary of the Orange County Credit association, was appointed secretary-manager.

In a statement released today for publication, Chairman Rankin declared that the Business Men's association will be operated jointly with the two former organizations.

The Santa Ana Merchants and Manufacturers' association and the Orange County Credit association, until a larger merger can be effected. The management will be in hands of a joint committee, chosen from the two boards, assisted by four special committees, finance, membership, advertising and entertainment. The personnel of the special committees will be announced in a few days, the chairman declared.

The statement added that the Business Men's association already has taken steps to offer the finest type of protective and credit rating service of any association of its size in the state, combined with an efficient collection department. The program includes the issuance of a regular bulletin, one of special interest to the membership desiring the protective service, and another of particular interest to those subscribing to the full credit service.

Following are some of the activities listed in the program of work outlined by the directors:

Check-up on local state and federal legislation, insofar as they effect good business.

Consideration of all matters that require uniformity of action or co-operation among business men along advertising and other lines.

Warnings of crooks and similar characters coming to this city.

Warnings of "smooth operators," curbstone brokers, get-rich-quick Wallingfords, inducing wage earners to part with their savings.

Reports of losses from "dead beats" or "check artists," who have managed to pass off some of their worthless paper before arrested or run out of the city.

Reliable credit information on users of credit in all lines of business activity and among professional men.

Joint settlement of the accounts of debtors who get in "too deep" around town.

Collection of "bad" accounts, locating concealed assets, attaching and bringing suit for collection.

Handling the "slow but good" account in a manner to produce results without giving offense to the customer.

Tracing bad debtors all over the country through connections with 600 other credit associations.

town who could play to join in the game. That is where he got his start as a baseball player," Curtis recalled.

An interesting sidelight on the first campaign of William Jennings Bryan for the presidency was related by Curtis. Dr. M. A. Menges was a devoted admirer of the "Boy Orator of the Platte," and was certain that Bryan would be elected. Dr. Menges, according to Curtis, made a wager with the barber on the outcome of the election.

Menges was to pay double for three shaves a week for a period of four years if Bryan lost. If Bryan won, he was to get the same number of shaves over the same period free of cost.

Bryan lost. For six months, Dr. Menges, Curtis said, paid double for his shaves. At the end of that time, he outwitted the barber by growing a beard!

Doctor Outwits Barber
"I don't hold it against him," Curtis said with a chuckle. "He was clever. I hadn't thought of his growing whiskers, although I knew Bryan wouldn't be elected."

Curtis recalled vividly the occasion of the great race between the famous pacer, Silkwood, owned by a Santa Ana man of the same name, and the famous eastern pacer, W. W. Woods, which Curtis said was brought from Los Angeles to the race track south of town for the purpose of trimming the Santa Ana horse.

"Every business house in Santa Ana closed up that day," Curtis

NATIVE SONS TO ORGANIZE IN SANTA ANA

Preliminary organization of a parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West will be made at G. A. R. hall, Thursday evening, February 25, it was announced today by Deputy Grand President A. V. Mayrhofer, who is here organizing the parlor.

A charter already has been granted by the grand lodge, and it is expected institution of the parlor will be effected early in March. Representatives of the eight parlors in Los Angeles county will be here for the preliminary meeting, the deputy stated.

Keen interest in the creation of the organization here is being manifested by men who are native born, and it is expected that institution of the parlor will be made with a record for the number of charter members.

San Pedro holds the record with 130 charter members. The local list is in excess of 50, and it is the ambition of the deputy and men who have joined to have more than 130 members when official institution is made.

Pointing out that any native-born California man of the white race, more than 18 years of age, may become identified with the parlor, Mayrhofer said that among those who have joined are Basil J. Smith, Joseph M. Backs, Myford M. Carrillo, Charles C. Carrillo, Isaac Augustus Mechem, Henry D. Tuffree, H. Mel Head, W. S. Gregg, E. L. Madden, A. M. Stanley, P. Jacques, W. J. ## MADDEN DENIES STARVATION OF PLANE SERVICE

By C. B. DODDS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A vigorous denial that congress was starving the army and navy air service was made on the floor of the house by Chairman Madden, of the house appropriations committee, in presenting the deficiency bill.

Congressman Madden took a fling at the army and navy critics of congress by saying, "They have not been short of money, even though they have been short of brains. At any rate, they did not accomplish much with the money they got." Continuing, Madden said:

"I think I can prove beyond any doubt that the charge against congress is unjustified. During the last five-year period, we have appropriated more than $86,000,000 a year.

"It was said in the public prints that Japan is superior in the air. Well, if Japan is superior in the air, there is something wrong with the men who are managing the money that this congress appropriates for aviation, because we have been appropriating an average of $86,676,000 a year, and Japan's budget for 1924-25 had $10,500,000.

They said that France is supreme in the air. Well, there again, if that is true, there is something the matter. France was spending only $65,600,000 a year for military aviation, when we were spending $86,676,000. France was spending, in addition to that amount, $10,000,000 for commercial aviation, making a total of $75,600,000 for that purpose. If she is supreme in the air with that smaller expenditure, then we ought to have a new method of purchase, a new method of organization, a new method of management, but certainly not any method that would put the air service by itself and make it independent of the army or the navy. I am not in favor of that, but within the army and the navy there should be the greatest care in the expenditure of funds placed at their disposal, and at the same time the greatest care to see that they get value for the money they are authorized to spend."

... Capt. Ernest Holderman, who probably is California's greatest hero from the point of service and in number of decorations, has departed from Washington, after arranging with the war department for his retirement from the army. He is visiting friends in Maine, but will leave in a few days for California, to take command of the state soldiers' home at Napa.

While in Washington, Captain Holderman was made much of by the war department, veterans' posts and the California delegation.

He had just finished 11 weeks' treatment at Walter Reed hospital and still goes around on crutches.

Captain Holderman has nearly every military decoration it is possible to have and he is very proud of them.

... The United States continues to be Japan's best customer, even to a greater extent than heretofore, and Japan is among the best customers of the United States, according to a statement just issued by Secretary Hoover.

Japan's foreign trade was never higher than in 1925. Its exports last year amounted to 2,304,000,000 yen, an increase of 500,000,000 yen. The imports were 2,570,000,000 yen, an increase of 117,000,000 yen.

The yen had an average value last year of 41 cents. Its par value is nearly 50 cents.

Japan's exports to the United States increased nearly one-third last year, amounting in all to $400,000,000. While other countries purchase more products from the United States than Japan does, Japan buys more from this country than from any other country in the world, although her purchases here last year were 2 per cent less than in 1924.

The railroads are now seriously debating the appointment of a "Will Hays" for their industry.

The matter has been discussed for several months and was accentuated by the appointment of Charles E. Hughes as the "Hays" of the oil industry.

Railroad attorneys are having a hard time competing successfully with the special counsel sent on by shippers, chambers of commerce and other organized civic bodies. The railroad men are constantly meeting specialists and they find their own time taken up too much with generalization, which makes their tasks doubly difficult.

The railroads have no joint policy. Competition is said to be so keen between roads covering the same territory that business throat-cutting is not unheard of.

Samuel Rea, of the Pennsylvania lines, is spoken of as the man best fitted to lead the railroads to higher and better things.

FRATERNAL NEWS

DE MOLAY ORDER STARTS TICKET SALE FOR PLAY

Santa Ana chapter, De Molay, will make final arrangements for staging the musical comedy success, "Supper at Ten," at the regular meeting of the order, at 7:30 tomorrow night, in the Masonic temple.

The play will be presented here February 24 in the high school auditorium.

With two weeks remaining, the committees have started an intensive drive to insure the success of the undertaking. Tickets are being sold by the De Molay members and in the Santa Ana book store.

A professional company, with Miss Margerita Orto, formerly with the Denishawn dancers, on the Orpheum circuit, as the leading artist, will present the comedy.

Reports on the activities of the committees will be made at tomorrow night's meeting.

An invitation has been extended to Robert Plomert, past master councillor of the Long Beach chapter, who recently was appointed courier for the district in which Santa Ana is included, to attend the meeting of the Santa Ana order tomorrow night. If he can make arrangements to be present, he will tell of activities of other chapters.

Regular business will be transacted and the petitions of several candidates for membership will be read and referred to committees.

After the musical comedy has been presented here, plans for a dance will be undertaken by the order. Early next month, a new second degree team will be cast by Valmer Clark. The quarterly initiation will be held at the last meeting of next month, March 27.

National G. A. R., W. R. C. Officers Are Entertained

Members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. met recently for a pot-luck dinner, at which they entertained the national department commander, and the national department president and their staff. Following the dinner, addresses were made by the guests. After the addresses, there was a short business meeting, at which four new names were brought up for membership.

Committees Are Named By Lodge

Carl C. Cowles, master of Jubilee lodge, has appointed the following committees for the year 1926:

Coaching—John Martel, Donald McDonald, Earle H. Eyster and Floyd McClay.

Auditing—Horace Y. Evans, Carl E. Carlson, Chester Baxter.

Entertainment—Harry Garstand, Judson Sutherland, Arthur Munnsdale.

Refreshment—Eloyd Roach, Otto Hahn, A. E. Bowman, Noah E. Mayhill, John Martel.

Sickness and relief—Carl Cowles, Judson G. Sutherland, Lloyd Roach.

Those named on the committees have been requested to organize as soon as possible in order to perfect their working organization for the coming year.

Chapter To Hold Colonial Party

A committee has been named by Hermosa chapter, O. E. S. to have charge of the colonial party, to be given at the Masonic temple Monday, night, February 1. Mrs. Grace Finn and Miss Grace Wilson will head the committee, which includes W. D. Finn, Roscoe Wilson, J. I. Clark, W. W. Cleverger, Mark Cloyes, C. J. Cogan and J. E. Gowan.

Meadabes Mollie Clark, Anna Cleverger, Inez Cloyes, Octa V. Cogan and Lida Crookshank. All members who have colonial or old fashioned costumes are requested to wear them, as it is the desire of the committee that the party be as nearly like a party of olden days as possible.

W. B. A. Members Are Entertained

The Woman's Benefit association spent a pleasant afternoon, February 5, in the home of Docia Jasper, 215 North McClay street. An interesting feature was a guessing contest, in which Pearl Nelson won first prize and Laura Moye received consolation prize. The afternoon was devoted to needle work and conversation.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jasper to the following guests: Dixie Weekly, Pearl Nelson, Cora Wood, Nadine Wood, Lucinda Hamilton, Belle Alderman, Florence Somerville, Laura Moye, Sue Spencer, Ida Rudolph, Mary Callahan, Ivy Olson, Margaret Culver, Anna Arnold, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Duncan, Anna Towner and Margaret Erickson.

Woodmen Plan 2 Big Lodge Events

The Modern Woodmen of America are planning to make the remainder of this month something to be remembered in that they are to have a dance at the M. W. A. hall Tuesday night. The Royal Neighbors are to be guests of the Modern Woodmen.

Tuesday, Feb. 23, also is looked upon by members of Oak camp as a red letter day, as on that date there is to be a big class adoption of the M. W. A. hall. Seven neighboring camps from Southern California towns will be in attendance. State Deputy Ben Goodheart will be present with the "goat" and Head Banker O. E. Alshire will help put on the work.

A talk on "Woodcraft" will be given by National Director Francis R. Kerra. This talk will be one of four made by him while in California.

Pythians Are Working Hard To Win Prize

Santa Ana lodge, No. 149, Knights of Pythias, is working hard to capture the $100 prize, offered by District Convention No. 31, to the lodge in this district that puts on the rank of knight best.

The judges are to be selected outside of the district. Members of Santa Ana lodge feel that they have a good chance to carry away the honors in this contest as they have been complimented on several occasions as to their proficiency in the work. A rehearsal was held last Wednesday night, when, at an early hour, the regular meeting was turned over to Master of Work P. T. Isherwood.

At the last meeting of the District Convention, it was decided to hold the annual July 4 sunrise services in the Brea hills, as has been the custom. A committee was appointed to make arrangements accordingly.

The rank of Knight will be conferred next Wednesday night, at 7:45 in M. W. of A. hall.

The Pythian Sisters have offered their assistance in the preparation of refreshments for the entertainment and dance to be held February 24.

Valentine Talk Feature of Meet

Hermosa chapter, No. 105, O. E. S. met in the Masonic temple Monday night. Following the business meeting, Mrs. J. E. Tillotson gave an interesting talk on "The Origin of the Valentine." She told how the custom of sending Valentines originated, how they have changed and how even their meanings have changed until now they more nearly express the sentiments of "Sheik Valentines" than the sentiments of St. Valentine.

Miss Fay gave two whistling numbers. Theo Winbiger told of his trip around the world, dwelling particularly on the countries of the Orient.

S. A. Sciote Order Will Entertain At Orange Show

The Ancient Egyptian order of Sciots of Southern California is planning to provide the entertainment at the Orange show, to be held in San Bernardino from February 28, on Saturday, February 20.

At a recent meeting, the Santa Ana pyramid completed plans for its share in the entertainment. S. J. Mustel will be in charge of the musical program in the afternoon and, in the evening, the Santa Ana pyramid will participate in a ceremonial.

The Sciots have provided for a special train, to leave Santa Ana February 20, at 11:30 a. m., going direct to San Bernardino. It will leave on the return trip as soon as the evening's entertainment is over.

THOUGHT LAST MOMENT HAD COME

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN conquered constipation, the cause of her trouble

Now she's healthier and happier than ever!

"I awoke with a most disagreeable sensation around my heart and, together with fear, thought my last moment had come. After that I began to be troubled greatly with indigestion. This I treated diligently with supposed cures, but never found anything that completely relieved me except ALL-BRAN."

Constipation is the hideous bugbear of health. It fastens its ravaging hold on young and old. Sallow complexion, pimples, headaches—are all symptoms! Cleanse your system of its poisons for good.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation permanently if eaten regularly. It is 100 per cent bran. That's why doctors recommend it!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. A ready-to-serve cereal, delicious with milk or fruit. Used in cooking too. Served everywhere. Sold by all grocers on a money-back guarantee.

Cynosure of All Eyes at This Year's Show

Outstandingly beautiful—attractive—are the new Rickenbackers in this year's automobile show.

The modish design and the artistic finish of the new body types arrest the attention of everyone—whether in the show, on the sales floor, on the street or parked at the country club.

For the first time this wonderful chassis is graced with a body which, in quality of materials and in coach-craft is in keeping with its own quality and performance.

That chassis with which, during the past twelve months, "Cannon Ball" Baker made the longest list of road records ever made by one man driving the same car in one year, is now available, with all standard—and two unique—body types.

"Built up to a standard—not down to a price."

That is the keynote to Rickenbacker quality for 1926—and it permeates everywhere from the very foundation sills to the last detail of finish and of fittings.

Several Thousand Photographs of Sally O'Neil

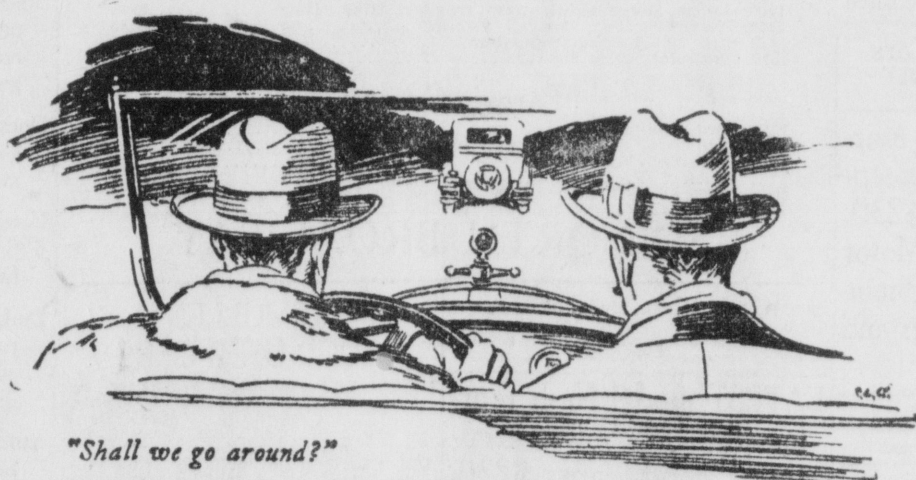

(Movie Star)

will be given away

Thousands of photographs of the well known movie actress, Sally O'Neil, will be given away by the Hall Motor Co., distributors for the Marmon and Rickenbacker automobiles. These photographs will be given away at the booth of the Hall Motor Co., at the Automobile Show. Each person receiving a photograph must register their name and address. It may bring you luck. The Hall Motors will allow someone a credit of $500 on a new Marmon and a $300 credit on a new Rickenbacker. Any model may be selected.

It costs you nothing to register.

You should plan to be at the Auto Show in person Wednesday evening, especially if you receive one of Sally O'Neil's photographs.

"Shall we go around?"

"Use your own judgment. It's a New Marmon!"

ON the high road Marmon sets its own pace, free from annoyance from lesser cars. No experienced road driver cares to challenge it—TWICE. He KNOWS "It's a Great Automobile."

Sally O'Neil

(Movie Star)

will appear in person

at the

Auto Show Wednesday evening next

Sally O'Neil will draw the names of the persons having her photographs and if they are in the show at the time they will receive a credit as follows: The first one will be for $500 credit on a new Marmon, and the second will receive credit for $300 on a new Rickenbacker—any model.

It is important that everyone who registers attend the show Wednesday evening.

HOW TO ANSWER BLIND CLASSIFIED ADS
(For instance, Box 38, Register, or other similar addresses), please be careful to use the precise address given in the ad. Write address plainly. Letters brought to the Register office will require stamps. Always inclose your answer in sealed envelope.
7. P. (TILL) FORD'S ADS
If an advertiser who has made application for credit and opened an account with The Register Credit department in the regular form desires to have any "blind" advertisement published continuously "until further notice" he may do so by signing a "T.P." order to that effect. An advertisement thus begun will appear regularly until countermanded by written order.
The Register postoffice department is conducted for the benefit of patrons who wish answers to come to the office. Advertisers are furnished with identification cards which must be presented at the Register office. For the protection of our patrons, replies are not given out except on presentation of box card.
No record is kept of the names and addresses of the patrons using the Register postoffice, and therefore no information concerning these advertisers can be supplied. A charge is made for the words "Box A-24, care The Register."

WINTERBURN NAMED STANFORD GRID COACH

Seniors Capture Annual Poly Interclass Meet

PAUL FIRST IN BROAD JUMP AT 21 FEET, 7 IN.

English Nabs 100 in Fast Time Considering Poor Condition of Speedway

Two unusual performances blazed forth out of an otherwise uneventful Santa Ana high school interclass track meet which was easily won by the seniors who collected a total of 68 1-3 points on the Poly oval yesterday.

Two weeks' inclement weather made it impossible for the athletes to keep in training on the sloppy track so the records were slow.

But little Howard Paul, Santa Ana's broad jumping ace, made the track fans take notice when he leaped 21 feet and 7 inches. In an other jump that was not counted because he "crow-hopped" a bare fraction of an inch, Paul set the astounding mark of 22 feet and 6 inches.

Paul captured the senior class men and led them to the interclass championship. He was high point man of the meet, making a total of 18 digits by taking first in the broad jump, the discus throw and the 220 low hurdles and a second in the 100 yard dash.

English Nabs Century. Gerald English beat Paul to the tape in the 100 yard dash. His time, 10.8, was remarkable considering the condition of the cinder-path.

The other sensations of the meet was the high jumping of Robert Jacques, the rascally French boy. His mark of 5 feet, 6 inches presaged a good season with plenty of medals and points. With a little practice, Jacques will be able to add several inches to this mark.

In a tabulation of points the seniors made 68 1-3 counters, the juniors took 38, and the sophomores picked up the remaining 7 2-3 points.

Now that the first test of the Poly athletes has been made, Coach Walter Scott has some idea of the material he has to develop for the Santa Ana track team this year.

Heaviest Hitter Of Boston Red Sox To Play With Missions

IKE BOONE

Although Ike Boone was the heaviest hitter the Boston Red Sox had last season, he was recently released to the new Mission Bears club of the Pacific Coast league. Boone is one of the largest men in baseball. He stands a couple of inches over six feet and weighs more than 200 pounds. He batted .333 in 128 games last season.

GIRL ATHLETES AT POLY FORM ORGANIZATION

By ALFRED AULT.
With the election of officers, girl athletes of the Santa Ana high school now are organized in an association for the promotion of co-ed sports that will be far-reaching in its effect.

Last week the girls met and adopted an eight-page constitution, the document today becoming operative.

The names decided upon is the Girls' Athletic Association. This has come to be shortened to simply the G. A. A. In many respects, the association is almost revolutionary in the changes it proposes for girls' athletics at the school.

A membership of nearly 100 athletes is enrolled. One of the most elaborate organizations among Southern high schools has been established here, it is said.

Miss Evelyn Yount was chosen president of the association. She is directing her attention toward stressing and encouraging athletics among the girls by providing recognition for ability. Other officers are Marie Tunison, vice president; Gayle Baldwin, secretary; and Virginia Brannon, treasurer. Miss Alverda West, girls' coach, is faculty advisor.

Outstanding records by girls in athletics will be recognized. One of the projects of the organization is the staging of a big annual banquet near the close of the year with the complete membership in attendance.

On the occasion of the banquet, the girl judged the best athlete on the basis of leadership, sportsmanship and service is to be honored with the "higher award." This is a medal that carries with it the greatest recognition a girl can obtain.

The annual girls' league loving cup award has been replaced by the "higher award." The first awards will be issued at the banquet this spring.

The point system is in force. The regular first team letters will continue to be awarded by the school. Numerous are to be given to champion class teams in each sport. Points ranging from 25 to 100 are credited for participation in different fields of sports.

A girl who has won 400 points is entitled to wear the association pin. If, during the high school year, a girl collects 800 points a "S. A." sweater will be awarded.

Several girls at the Santa Ana high school are this year qualified to receive the special awards. More interest is already being shown in athletics and the co-eds are waiting for the annual banquet when the awards will be made and the new association's officers installed.

SENIORS WIN FROM SOPH HOCKEY GIRLS

Miss Alverda West, girls' coach today began the task of selecting a Santa Ana high school hockey team for a game with Anaheim here next Thursday following the completion yesterday of the annual interclass series that each year begins the "shinny" season at the local institution.

The seniors, school champions, finished their schedule by defeating the sophomores, 4 to 1. The Misses Mary Godoykowitz and Becci Walker starred. The senior combination went through the interclass competition without a defeat. The lineup:
Seniors (4): (1) Sophomores Godoykowitz (2) RW. DuBois (3) Ericeo (4) RW. Owens (5) Walker (6) CF. Spurgeon James (7) L. (8) Markel (9) Walker (10) W. O'Brien (11) Tunison (12) RH. Morris Yount (13) CH. Granger (14) L. H. Pea (15) Owens (16) RB. Walbridge Hall (17) LB. Dollahite (18) Becci (19) Goal. Ford Substitutions: Seniors—Chambers for Ericeo; Gaebe for Tunison; Cleary for Yount; Fernandez for Lutz; Dart for Hall; Sophomores—Thornton for DuBois; Huston for Thornton; Jones for O'Brien; Hoy for Morris; Erbe for Hoy; Huber for Granger; Hammet for Pea; Randall for Dollahite; Larabee for Randall; Rowland for Ford.

Baseball Team Loses Park As Oil Found

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Oil in Southern California takes preference over baseball, members of the Chancellor-Centfield Midway oil team have decided.

After four months' work in preparing a diamond, the players arrived one day for practice to find the company's geologists studying the ground around home plate. The geologists decided there was oil under the diamond and that a well would be drilled on the home plate.

The baseball players have decided to look around for another field and hope to strike oil again.

Workmen toil and sweat. Carpenters pound and hammer. Enginemen ponder and figure. A magnificent gymnasium arises at the high school. It is a temple, a palace dedicated to the physical education of our youth and wherein they may acquire knowledge that will aid in preparing them for the skirmishes of every-day life.

While this majestic structure takes shape and plans for impressive dedicatory exercises are being made, many "old-timers" doubtless will recall days when fine gymnasiums, turfed athletic fields and splendid equipment were unknown, here at least.

There were the days when high school athletes had to purloin rakes, shovels and hoes from their parents and clear their own fields of weeds and stubble. There were the years of the athletic park on Fruit street, just east of the railroad tracks, when students had to trudge three-quarters of a mile even to practice for their games.

Then came Lincoln field, "only five blocks from the high school."

Conditions were better when the present high school was opened but it is the cold, even if vivid, memory of the writer when Poly athletes were furnished hot water for showers on the occasion of the Saturday contests and the concession was considered a great one.

The new gymnasium is a credit to the progress and enterprise of a fine city. It should be but the first step that eventually will provide Santa Ana with ample grounds where boys and girls, too, may obtain the exercise that is their due.

The city's expenses are high already and there is something to the argument that we must economize. But economizing at the expense of playgrounds isn't the wisest sort of economy, by a long shot.

First of all, children have a right to play somewhere. We've built huge cities and cut thousands of youngsters off from the open fields and lanes and streams that all children used to know, and it's up to us to give them something else.

Besides, there are plenty of statistics to show that playgrounds reduce juvenile delinquency. A city that installs plenty of them will receive dividends later in decreased lawlessness—and everyone knows that all cities could stand a change like that.

Orange county baseball lost a valuable friend and adviser when Victor Walker, local sportsman, announced his retirement as head of the Orange County Harbor league, an organization which he was instrumental in forming six winters ago.

Walker was ever a protector of the interests of the young ball player and he guarded zealously from the taint of professionalism those who still were interested in amateur athletics and hoped to go on with such activities on the college campus. He had no scruples against a boy entering baseball as a profession. Indeed, his close relations with numerous major and minor league players and managers enabled him to lead a help-

HELEN DEFEATS OPPONENT SANS LOSS OF GAME

CANNES, France, Feb. 12.—Helen Wills, back on the tennis courts after days of idleness enforced by rain, rose to her usual form today and defeated Mrs. Madeline O'Neill of England in two love sets, thereby advancing another step toward her expected meeting with Suzanne Lenglen.

Miss Wills had said before the match that she was "badly in need of practice," but her playing did not give much trace of her game having suffered through the idleness. She dominated the court from the first stroke.

Miss Lenglen had as good success as did Helen in her first match of the day, defeating Miss Bower of England in two love sets. In the first set she allowed Miss Bower but one point and in the second only four. Lenglen came on the courts powdered and painted and resplendent in a green sweater.

Officials of the Carlton tournament said today that the program would be curtailed, many of the handicaps and doubles matches cancelled and the singles programs speeded up in the hope that the final round might be staged Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning.

With the break in the weather, the tense "commercial crisis" also cleared a little. It is probable now that the monopoly on the movies awarded for $200,000 will be cancelled and American photographers will be allowed on the courts.

The protest of the American film men and the remark of Miss Lenglen that as many cameramen as could be accommodated should be allowed on the courts led officials to the belief that a mistake had been made.

Following the bitter criticism started by Miss Wills about the commercialism in the promotion of Riviera tournaments, Miss Lenglen only denounced "side show tennis" today.

In a statement made for the United Press, Miss Lenglen said: "I object most emphatically against these side show methods of conducting tennis tournaments. Tennis isn't commercial sport like boxing and horse racing and I'm sure that all tennis players will agree with me that it never will be such."

Miss Lenglen and Miss Wills agreed today on George D. Willard, manager of the Wimbledon tournament, as the umpire for their meet during the Carlton tournament. Fifteen linesmen were picked. None of them were French or American.

LEAVES SANTA ANA POST FOR JOB AS WARNER'S ASSISTANT

CHARLES ("CHUCK") WINTERBURN

Santa Ana lost one of the finest football coaches in its history when John Charles ("Chuck") Winterburn, former University of Pittsburgh quarterback and mentor of the 1925 Poly grid machine, yesterday accepted a position as assistant coach under "Pop" Warner at Stanford University.

Fish and Game

by Morris Ackerman

Have you ever watched the family dog dash out of the back door and pick up little Jimmy's 10-minute old tracks?

Have you marveled how that "purr" picked those tracks from the multitude of passing feet on the sidewalk? It's really uncanny, when you think of it. Keener still is the nose of the hound, the pointer and setter.

Isn't it wonderful how the beagle picks out a lone rabbit track from hundreds of other tracks that cross and recross in the orchard tangle, and brings the bunny back to you? Is there any more beautiful piece of canine work in the world than is put on display by a graceful pointer or setter telling its master "your bird, dear friend, is right in front of me now?"

All of this show of ability on the part of the family pet, the hound and the bird dog, is merely play. These dogs get enjoyment from the opportunity to "show their stuff."

Now give a little thought to the wolf. Here is a member of the dog family that hunts for its life. Like other living things it must eat in order that it shall not starve. What does the wolf live on? Mostly members of the deer family—deer, moose and caribou. The wolf packs come on the scent of a deer, and the rest is a matter of speed and cunning. How much more acute must be the nose of the wolf than that of the domestic dog? The question then probably arises in your mind why the wolf does not destroy all of the young of a deer, moose or caribou. What a feast there must be in the spring, amongst the babes of the wood.

Here is where the God of Nature steps in and says, "You shall not kill!" For now the deer, the moose and the caribou leaves not its scent on hunting ground. Where the wolf horde enjoyed its feast in the fall and winter its victims may now tread without fear of leaving the tell-tale hoof scent on muskies and rotted leaf.

The mother deer finds some secluded spot in the woods and there bears her offspring, peaceful in the thought that there is a temporary respite from the sharp fangs of the ravaging wolf-pack. To make the safety of the new-born more sure the mother never leaves without the admonition to "lie still until I return."

PASADENA B'S CONQUER LOCAL FIVE, 12 TO 8

Against the league leading Pasadena lightweight, Santa Ana high school's Class B (130 pound) basketball team went down to defeat by the close score of 12 to 8 at Pasadena yesterday afternoon.

Considering that the Millionaires have a perfect record in the Coast Preparatory league, the opposition that the Santa Ana "Bees" furnished, was exceptional. The Pasadena lights apparently have the league championship clinched.

the end. Santa Ana trailed its foe throughout but the distance was so close that it always had a chance.

But for Pasadena's star forward, Rogers, the locals would have shown the victors the small end of the score. Rogers scored 9 points, more than the entire Santa Ana team.

Captain George Preble was the individual high point player for Santa Ana with three scores. White and Goodman each tallied one basket. The Santa Ana team has been weakened by the loss of Judson Sullivan, who is out with a bad ankle.

The lineup:
S. A. (8): (1) Pasadena Preble (3) F. (2) Smith White (2) F. (3) Rogers Adams (2) C. (4) Tencher Goodman (2) G. (5) J. Hartlein Sullivan (1) G. (6) G. Hartlein

VICTORY FOR WATER BONDS IS PREDICTED

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 12.—With very opposition shown against the proposed $50,000 bond issue for a new water system here, residents of the town were today predicting an overwhelming victory for the bond issue on February 16. A mass meeting was held at the grammar school auditorium last night, when reports of the plans for the system were made, and residents of the town were asked to express their opinions on the bond issue.

J. M. Woodworth acted as chairman of the meeting. More than 75 persons were present.

J. A. Knapp, manager of the Garden Grove water system, reported that plans had been made for a huge steel water tank with a capacity of 125,000 gallons of water. It is planned to place the tank 95 feet in the air.

The proposed improvements include the installation of two new pumping units, the installation of a considerable length of new water mains, several fire hydrants on the main streets and the steel tank. It is estimated that the entire improvements will cost about $45,000.

Knapp's report also showed that the present water system, which will be removed to the Garden Grove Home tract and installed for emergency purposes, is now serving more than 500 subscribers. The revenue from the plant following the improvements should be about $10,000 per year, according to Knapp.

Attorney Horace Head, of Santa Ana, was present at the mass meeting to clear up legal matters.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 12.—February 5 was a red letter day for the Woman's Civic club. Present were the county president, Mrs. A. P. Nelson, of Santa Ana, and the federation chairman, Mrs. Voice, of Seal Beach.

After the usual routine of business and reports, Mrs. E. H. Stille, president, announced that on March 1 the members would be able to pay $1000 on the clubhouse. Under the leadership of the president, the club has earned that amount since September 1 by cooking and serving meals.

A mysterious, blanketed object was brought in and Mrs. Henry presented a coffee percolator, restaurant size, to the club.

The donors of this handsome gift, who make up the Jolliffe club, are Mesdames Henry, Jentges, Zimmerman, Hotz, McConnell, Pollard, Lewis and New, now of Placentia.

The speaker of the afternoon was next introduced, Miss Loleta Perline, a well known artist of Laguna Beach. Her subject was "Art Appreciation." She brought with her a number of beautiful paintings to illustrate the types of the different schools of art, from the time of the Dutch and French schools to the modern schools of today.

She closed with Kipling's "When Life's Last Pictures are Painted" and responded with an original poem as an encore.

The afternoon closed with tea and delicious wafers served by Mesdames Jentges, Pollard and Hotz. A dance will be given at the clubhouse by the social section of the Woman's Civic club on Feb. 13, to which all are cordially invited. An old time dance was given last Saturday.

The weekly card party was held at the clubhouse on Tuesday evening, with Mrs. E. R. Stillens and Mrs. R. A. Wilcox hostesses for the evening.

First prizes in 500 were won by Mrs. W. A. Wheeler and E. R. Stillens and second prizes by Mrs. Roger Wood, of Santa Ana and Jack Jentges.

A delightful evening was enjoyed when members of the Jolliffe club entertained their husbands and a few friends at a Valentine party at the home of Mrs. H. H. Lewis on Monday evening.

The diversion of the evening was 500, with attractive prizes for high score awarded to Mrs. H. H. Pollard and C. B. Henry, while second prize went to Mrs. C. B. Henry and John Gibson. At a late hour, a supper of chicken salad, lemon pie and coffee was served to the following: Mrs. and Mr. J. D. Price and Mrs. J. A. Knapp.

The next afternoon meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank McConnell in two weeks.

Mrs. J. D. Price and Mrs. J. A. Knapp were joint hostesses in entertaining the Tuesday Afternoon club at a 1 o'clock luncheon this week. Following luncheon, a program was given on the life of Carlisle Jacobs Bond. Mrs. S. R. Fitz read an interesting article and several of the composer's songs were played on the phonograph.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Robert Valle and Mrs. Kinney of Los Angeles, daughters of Mrs. Price and her sister, Mrs. Jennie Knott, and Mrs. Duckworth of Los Angeles, a daughter of Mrs. Dan Head.

The meeting in March will be held at the home of Mrs. E. M. Dozier, who will be assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. O. Arkley.

The Garden Grove Lions club held its regular monthly meeting in the clubhouse on Wednesday noon. Reports on the attendance contest were given. Dr. C. C. Violett's team is ahead.

Mr. Heberstreit, scout master, gave a talk on the work and principles of the Boy Scout organization. He was accompanied by five boys, who gave demonstrations of tying knots, signaling and first aid.

The Alamitos P-T-A held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening in the Alamitos school.

Following a short business session, Mr. Sanovall gave an interesting review on portions of the book "The Child, His Nature and His Needs." This was followed by an old fashioned spelling match.

FLORIDA CITRUS SHIPMENTS DROP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Commercial shipments of Florida citrus fruits this year were estimated by the agriculture department at 8,500,000 boxes of oranges and tangerines and 5,500,000 boxes of grapefruit.

The orange estimate is 2,200,000 below the December estimate and 2,500,000 below last year's shipments. The grapefruit estimate is 800,000 less than the December estimate and 2,700,000 below last year's shipments.

The total California orange crop estimate remains at 20,400,000 compared with 18,100,000 picked last year. No attempt is made to estimate shipments. California is expected to produce 400,000 boxes of grapefruit, compared with 387,000 last year.

Hubby Asks Court For Divorce from Cavewoman Wife

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Claiming his wife hit him with a washboard and abused him in other "cave-womanish" ways, Thomas L. McLaughlin, prominent realtor, has filed suit for divorce from his wife, Nellie McLaughlin.

McLaughlin complained that he was at a decided weight disadvantage in physical encounters with his wife. She weighs 150 pounds and is strong and robust, whereas he has been ill and frail, weighing only 124 pounds, it was stated in the testimony.

Besides hitting him with a wooden washboard, the wife injured his eye with a porcelain statue, struck him in the jaw with a wooden butter mixer, threw a flower vase at him and stabbed him in the leg with a knife, it was alleged.

Adding insult to injury, it was claimed Mrs. McLaughlin locked her husband out of the home, forcing him to sleep elsewhere on various occasions.

WILL OPEN L. A. BRANCH

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Construction of a factory and retail branch of the Sears-Roebuck company, of Chicago, will be started here within 12 months, Max Adler, vice president of the mail order concern, announced here. The new building will cost between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000, Adler said.

THREE WOMEN FREED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Three women, held on charges of suspicion of murder in connection with the death of Harry Snyder from alleged poison liquor, have been released.

The prisoners, Betty Bailey, Pearl Davis and Kay Casper, were said to have served liquor to Snyder at a private residence.

with about 50 parents taking part. In observance of the birthday anniversary of the National P-T-A, the past presidents of the Alamitos P-T-A, Mrs. John Williams and Mrs. Davis, and the present president, Mrs. Force, lighted the candles on a large birthday cake, which was later cut and served with cocoa.

The 500 club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Head for a pot-luck supper at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening. Covers were laid for the following: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, of Artesia; Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pinkham, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wentz, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Newson, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Fulson and Mr. and Mrs. Clair Head.

Mr. and Mrs. Brintnall of Marshalltown, Iowa, who are spending the winter in Pasadena, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Brintnall's brother, J. M. Woodworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion St. Clair of Walnut were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Coats.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Morgan of Montebello, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chaffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meyer spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Cart in Los Angeles.

The Misses Nell Clara and Rachel Arbuthnot of Pomona visited Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Coats on Saturday.

Dr. Francis Campbell of Long Beach is spending a few days at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Acker of San Bernardino were guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Gallense over the week-end.

CALIFORNIA GAS HOLDINGS SOLD

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—The California Petroleum corporation has announced its acquisition of the California Gasoline corporation, the second largest casing head gasoline producer in the state. The purchase price was not disclosed but it is reported to be about $5,000,000.

The executive personnel of the California Gasoline corporation will continue in charge of operation of five absorption plants, under terms of the transaction.

R. E. Bering, president of the California Gasoline corporation, is to become head of the natural gas department of the California Petroleum corporation and will direct the combined natural gas operations of the companies.

The California Gasoline plants are located in the Signal Hill, Huntington Beach and Athens field. They have a daily production of approximately 60,000 gallons.

ing hand to many ambitious amateurs. But he was doggedly determined, always, to prevent young players under his wing from falling, unknowingly, into pitfalls from which they would emerge, against their will, as paid players.

With one or two associates, Walker organized the Harbor league as a field to develop baseball material. The league passed through two tempestuous seasons but weathered its storms and now each winter sails tranquilly through a successful season.

It is to be hoped that the veteran "prexy" reconsiders his decision ere long and will accept his seventh term of office when the Harbor leaguers assemble for reorganization next November.

Stories about animals are always worth a "play" because they nearly always carry a human interest punch. Sam Hildreth, veteran trainer for Harry Sinclair's Ranocas stable of racing horses, recently gave his reasons for sending Zev, the champion money winner of all time, back to the stud after failing to get him back in training. Hildreth was quoted as follows:

"He got to know too much. He didn't want to work and he let us know it. At first he would not run unless he had a horse in front of him, and we didn't have any in the barn fast enough to set the pace for him. Then we started running them against him in relays, and he soon got wise to that and quit running. When he got to feeling that way there was nothing left for us to do but let him have his own way and send him back to the stud."

SENIORS GRAB ANNUAL CLASS MEET AT POLY

Relay Team Strong

One of the greatest relay teams that has ever circled the track for Santa Ana will pass the baton this year. The senior team took the relay in the interclass clash but only after a fierce battle with the junior. Among the prospective candidates for the relay quartette are English, Twist, Bear, McKean, Hosea, Paul and Moore.

Much interest was shown in the mile run. The performance of Baldwin Chambers, new distance man here from Texas, was watched. He led in the grind until the last sprint when Warren Hamilton passed him at the finish. The time was 5 minutes, 29 seconds. Chambers has negotiated the grind in 4 minutes, 54 seconds and he is counted on as a sure point winner for Poly this spring.

McKean Easy Winner. A terrific pace was set by Bob McKean in winning the half mile at the time of 2 minutes and 16.8 seconds. He shot ahead of the field at the gun and was never headed.

Another new man here who will strengthen the pole vault event is Manley Moffat, enrolled here from Kansas. He went 9 feet, 9 inches yesterday afternoon for a first place.

The high hurdles were won by Randolph Bell, nine semester man. John Moffat, also from Kansas, was second. Paul loafed along in the low hurdles for first place in the time of 30 seconds.

The results:

50 yard dash—English (S) first; Velarde (Soph) second; Moore (J) third. Time—6.1 sec.

100 yard dash—English (S) first; Paul (S) second; Moore (J) third. Time—10.8 sec.

440 yard dash—Bear (J) first; Twist (S) second; Jacques (J) third. Time—57.7 sec.

Mile run—Hamilton (S) first; Chambers (S) second; O'Bryen (J) third. Time—5 minutes and 29 sec.

80 yard high hurdles—Bell (S) first; J. Moffat (Soph) second; Elmhorn (J) third. Time—12.4 sec.

Half mile run—McKean (S) first; Breeding (J) second; O'Bryen (J) third. Time—2 minutes and 16.8 sec.

Shot put—Schleicher (S) first; Rademacher (Soph) second; Heard (S) third. Distance—38 feet.

220 yard low hurdles—Paul (S) first; Jacques (J) second; Alderman (S) third. Time—30 sec.

Broad jump—Paul (S) first; Bear (J) second; Velarde (Soph) third. Distance—21 feet, 7 inches.

Pole vault—M. Moffat (J) first; Winters (S) second; Bell (S) third. Height—9 feet, 9 inches.

High jump—Jacques (J) first; Bell (S) and M. Moffat (J) tied for second. Height—5 feet, 6 inches.

Discus throw—Paul (S) first; Schleicher (S) second; M. Moffat (J) third. Distance—111 feet.

Relay won by seniors—McKean, Bell, Twist and English. No time taken.

Bruins, Trojans Collide Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—California and Southern California will tangle on the Olympic basketball court tonight. The game will be the final contest of a three-game series between the Bears and the Trojans.

California, by virtue of two decisive victories over the Southerners earlier in the season, is favored to win tonight's game.

Tomorrow night the Bears will meet their southern brothers, the University of California, Southern Branch.

SHORT SPORTS

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Forced by illness to give up his studies and return to his home in Dubuque, Iowa, Sabin Carr, American pole vault champion, will be lost to the Yale track team for the season.

PITTSBURGH—Bill McKechin, manager of the world-champion Pittsburgh Pirates, signed a new one-year contract and spiked the rumors that he was to be succeeded by Fred Clarke, assistant manager last season.

NEW YORK—"The American league can do as it wishes about using resin on the ball, but the National league pitchers can use it in the regular season games and in the world's series," John A. Heydler, president of the National league, said.

Cudahy's Puritan

100% Pure Leaf

"The Perfect Shortening"

"The Test Tells"

Puritan Lard is "The Perfect Shortening" and superior for every cooking purpose. This superiority is due to the fact that Puritan is 100% pure leaf, open kettle rendered, free from moisture and has that necessary grainy texture which insures perfect mixing with other baking ingredients. Because of this it requires less Puritan Lard to produce light, fluffy pastry and crisp, tender pie crust.

For deep frying, Puritan Lard assures delicious cooked foods. The golden brown seal which Puritan quickly forms around the food keeps in the natural flavor. You never have greasy food when you use Puritan.

Puritan Lard is smokeless at cooking temperature. It does not absorb food flavors, therefore, may be used again and again.

"KERNELS" BY THE COLONEL

With only two days remaining before the annual election of president of the Bankcleaners' Club, scheduled for Monday, Fourth and Main streets were all a-tingle with excitement today.

Groups were standing against the bank building, (as usual) and more than one candidate's name was being discussed freely.

According to an "inside" interview with J. McWhistle McGuffus, raisin picker, who is conducting the election, Pete Pennyantis, piano mover, was leading today in the race. McGuffus stated that he based his opinion on the fact that Pennyantis stood for boulevard stops on all streets leading into Main and East and West Fourth streets, and that all persons in Santa Ana were for the same thing.

The wooden leg specialist today announced that he would not be a candidate for president of the Bankcleaners' club. He gave as his reason the fact that he was not a member of the organization. "Otherwise I would like to run," he said.

Justice Kenneth Morrison has now come to the front with a new idea. This time, it's to put all 46 mile-per-hour speeders in jail. Formerly a racer had to be going 50 miles per hour.

The idea is probably a good one, but we can't help but wonder how long it will be before it will be all sentence to drive a car at all.

INFAMOUS UTTERINGS
"Mr. Stresemann, give us your candid opinion of Mr. Mussolini."

A couple of weeks ago, a certain organization with all the building at Church and Sycamore streets wrote in: "Colonel, please help us to get a street light at our intersection." Today, we again heard from the same. "We got the light, but it's a pity, people now get our place confused with the jail, it's so bright on the corner." Well?

Santa Ana has a police officer very adept at drawing. In fact he has faces of prominent citizens all over the confiscated whiskey bottles at police station. We would suggest that he draw a map, showing common, ordinary taxpayers the best way to enter police station at night.

Following is some of the signs which will not be seen at the Santa Ana automobile show:
"Drive a Cash and then Decide"
"When Bigger Cars Are Built, Fordomobile Will Build Them."
"Duck Into A Dodge. Room Enough for The Juana Bottles."
"It Rattles, But It Gets There, Reobuck."

Grandpa in a motor car, Shoveled the throttle in too far, Twinkle, twinkle, little star, (Music by the G. A. R.)

WANT SCHOOLS ADVERTISED IN BANK PUBLICITY—headlines in Register. "If the above applies to our bank, there's nothing doing." J. McGuffus McWhistle said today.

And now comes a Salem, Ore., couple to the front with the story that they have a pet hen that rides on the bumper of their machine. Had Fiberg wants to know if the same hen can lay an egg on the tail light?

TODAY'S PUZZLE
Get out the hemstitcher, a nice pan and try to figure out why a cyphonista all play the same musical numbers.

BOLD BANK BANDITS ESCAPE WITH $1800

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—A pair of bandits held up the Second Avenue State bank here, escaping with $1800 cash, after herding employees in a vault.

"The man standing in front of you will kill you at the first false move," a note, which one of the robbers handed to the cashier, read. While he was gathering up the cash, his companion backed employees into a rear vault.

The pair escaped in a small touring car.

BREA

BREA, Feb. 12.—Trinity Rebeah lodge No. 352, taking advantage of the fact that the regular meeting night falls on February 22, will serve a Washington dinner at 6:30 o'clock to members and their guests. Cards are being mailed to members, who will respond, retaining the number of guests they will bring, together with the name of the month in which the birthday of each falls. Tables will be set and decorated appropriately for each month of the year. Admission will be charged in accordance with the age of the diner at the rate of one cent per year. Following the dinner, the regular session of lodge will be held, after which a George Washington program will be produced.

The Rev. Owen Hornburg, for the past year pastor of the Brea Congregational church, has moved his family from 225 South Redwood avenue to a home in Villa Park, having accepted the pastorate of the Congregational church at that point. In addition to his pastoral duties, the Rev. Hornburg also has the agency for a Los Angeles daily publication.

Glenn Hyde, who was injured in an automobile accident several days ago near Santa Monica, is still confined in a hospital in that city, having suffered a broken thigh bone and severe cuts and bruises. One young man, a Los Angeles resident, who was riding in the back seat of the car, was instantly killed when a Pacific Electric car struck their machine, and the driver of the car was badly injured. It is reported that the boys were driving slowly and apparently did not see the swiftly moving electric car until too late to avoid the crash. Glenn, whose family resides at 237 North Madrona, has been working in Los Angeles for the past several months.

Mrs. Grace May, city clerk of Brea, has been confined to her home, 288 East Dute street, for the past week, suffering from a light attack of the flu. Her sister, Mrs. Marie Glazier, has been looking after her duties in the city hall during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hurst motored to San Diego Saturday and spent the week-end visiting with old friends there.

Word has been received in Brea of the birth of a 10-pound girl to Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Yost. February 6, at their home in Coalinga. Mrs. Yost was formerly Miss Oral Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mitchell, and before her marriage was connected with the First National bank, this city. Mr. Yost is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Yost and is store manager in Coalinga for the Lucey Manufacturing company.

Mrs. Nancy Bailey has been visiting this week with her mother and sister, Mrs. Sally Rankin and Miss Evelyn Rankin. Mrs. Bailey lives at Beaumont, to which point her mother and sister expect to move soon. Miss Rankin having sold her ladies' read-to-wear store here recently for the purpose of being with Mrs. Bailey, who is in very poor health.

Mrs. Schnurr, who has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. R. D. Renner, of the General Petroleum lease, since early in November, left Tuesday morning for her home in Sandusky, Ohio. Mrs. Schnurr made many warm friends while here and several complimen-

State Smallpox Cases Number 443

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12.—For the first 35 days of this year, 443 cases of smallpox have been reported in California, with 40 known deaths, the state board of health has announced in urging citizens to be vaccinated against the disease.

Dresses Up to Commit Suicide

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Ordinarily Tony Massaro, 50, went to his work as a shoe-shiner dressed in his old clothes. Yesterday he put on his best clothes, got a haircut and shave—just to commit suicide. Police found Tony's body above a pool hall. He was in his best suit, shaved and perfumed, with two bullet holes in his head.

At a regular business session of the Brea Woman's club, held Monday afternoon, an electoral board, consisting of Mesdames Clara Close, Maple Meisner and Mildred Phelps was appointed. The club voted to donate 18 dozen wash cloths to the tubercular camp located in Trabuco canyon. A. H. Brown, H. E. Becker and George Cullen, members of the Brea-Olinda high school board, visited the meeting and spoke in behalf of the Birch street high school site. At the close of the meeting, the members were taken in the school bus to visit both sites under discussion and which are to be voted on February 20.

Several Brea members of Amf Tai circle No. 405 attended the meeting of the Eastern Star order held at Yorba Linda Monday night in which the three chapters of Fullerton, Buena Park and Yorba Linda took part in exemplifying the work of the order before the grand officers of the district, who were guests of the evening. Yorba Linda conducted the opening and closing ceremonies. Fullerton put on the initiatory work, and Buena Park chapter the work of escort and balloting.

MOREHOUSE Recipes

Fruit Salad Dressing
MIX 2 tablespoons MOREHOUSE Salad Mustard with 1/2 pint whipping cream and 3 tablespoons sugar. Whip cream, add mustard and sugar and mix well. This unique no-oil dressing is a real "treat"—gets away from the usual kind of dressings that so many people are "tired of." It's tempting and delicious.

NOTE—The success of this recipe depends upon Morehouse Mustard, which has a higher per cent of mustard flour and contains no filler.

Interesting News of the Day Told in Pictures

Miss Ferne Rogers, musical comedy star, thought she met a retired millionaire when she was introduced to Roy Bowman, of Columbus, O. She says he told her he was a millionaire retired physician, promised to take her to Europe and said he'd finance her own show. So they were married. Then a few weeks later, she says, she found out he was only a retired bathhouse rubber, flat broke—and he got arrested for failing to pay a hotel bill at Columbus.

This is Princess Wiasemsky, daughter of Gordon Selfridge, American owner of London's greatest department store, with her daughter. The prince, whom she met while he was employed in her father's store, claims to come from a noble Russian family that traces its ancestors back 500 years. Now a London paper charges that he has no right to the title he claims.

Matthew B. Wells, Bloomington, Ill., capitalist, has been flooded with letters ever since he offered to buy 10,000,000 bushels of corn at $1 a bushel, 13 cents above the board of trade quotations. He is engaged in forming a farmers' co-operative grain marketing company.

Ted Dickson, newspaperman and fiction writer, has been sentenced to 13 years in a Panama jail on an alleged charge of cheating two men out of a year's pay. Dickson is the husband of Elsa Sheridan, shown with him above, former motion picture actress. The case is one which would come up only in civil court in this country. Dickson characterized it as a "Richard Harding Davis plot."

A Long Beach inventor hopes to make a fortune out of this mechanical shoe-shining device. You drop a nickel in the slot, designate what color shine you want, and the machine does the rest.

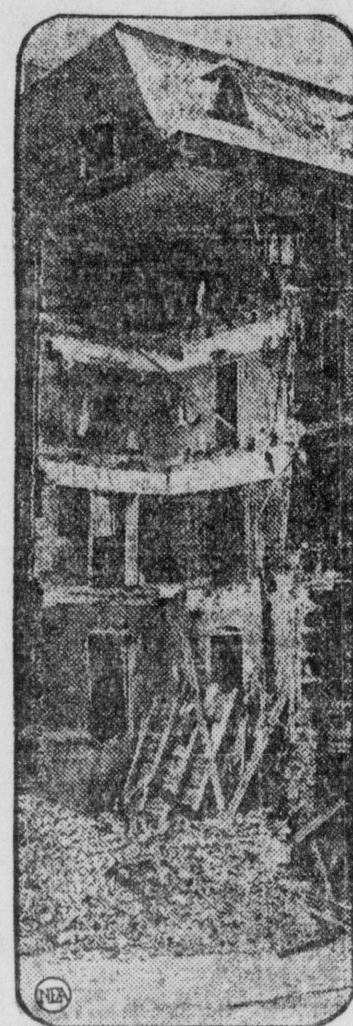

Dr. Harvey Coe Hullinger, who recently died at Vernal, Utah, at the age of 101 years, probably was the oldest practicing physician in the United States. He had been practicing for 73 years. Here he is shown in his log-house office in front of the apothecary cabinet.

Mary Louise Croake has the prettiest boyish bob in Cincinnati, who hear him announce over Radio KNX, Los Angeles, say his name should be "Alright." He is.

A. G. Hiles, 44, restaurant proprietor and father of four children, received a diploma from Lombard college, Galesburg, Ill., at the close of the first semester this winter. He completed the course in three and a half years and won high scholastic honors. His home is in Galesburg.

Harvey Haver, mail carrier at Newcomerstown, O., has confessed to killing his "mail order bride," Katherine, and hiding her body in an old well on his father's farm. He choked her to death, he says, when she threw a shoe at him one night when he came home from work. Photo above shows officials at the mouth of the well; Haver is below. "A. Goose, vagrant and Jay walking" is the police blotter entry for this prisoner in Lynn, Mass. The 15-pound goose was taken to jail after it had obstructed traffic on a main thoroughfare. He is shown at meal time in cell 13, waiting for bail.

"Baby Jack," of Los Angeles, is only seven weeks old—but he's a dope fiend. Policewoman Minnie Barton, shown above holding him, was trailing a drug peddler and found the child's mother was an addict. The drug had such a hold on the baby's system that when his mother was deprived of it he suffered intensely. Doctors are trying to find a remedy.

NEWS from ORANGE COUNTY

FIRST HEAD OF TUSTIN P.-T.A. LIGHTS CANDLE

TUSTIN, Feb. 12.—C. E. Utt, the first president of the Parent-Teacher association of this city and the only male president the organization has ever boasted, yesterday lighted the first candle on the huge birthday cake made especially for the Founder's day ceremony. Utt was president of the organization 11 years ago.

Other past presidents of the P.-T. A. who lighted candles on the cake were, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Mrs. D. D. Field, Mrs. Fred T. Poble, Mrs. Arthur Lindsey, Mrs. Charles E. Bowman, Mrs. L. E. Allen is the present incumbent.

The remaining candles on the cake were lighted by various members of the P.-T. A., each person reading or telling of the work of the organization while lighting the candle. Each of the past presidents gave short talks, following the lighting.

Nominations for new officers of the organization will be made at the regular meeting next month, it was announced. Reports from various committees showed that during the past several weeks, the P.-T. A. has been serving a large amount of milk to children in the kindergarten and lower grades of the grammar school. Mrs. H. A. Ritter made the report. Mrs. H. Kirk, chairman of the ways and means committee, told members of the organization of the plans for the colonial tea, which will be held at the kindergarten building February 19.

C. A. Weise, principal of the school, appealed to the parents to encourage their children in chicken raising contests and other contests now being promoted under the auspices of the school and the farm center. Mrs. James Willis Rice read the report from the book "The Child, His Nature and His Needs," which is being studied by the organization.

Mrs. R. Eleanor Palmer presented a reading, "Founder's Day." Following the business and ceremonial meeting, refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed. More than 50 parents were present.

ORANGE

ORANGE, Feb. 12.—The C. M. P. club was happily entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. D. F. Campbell at her home, South Cambridge street.

The next meeting will be held March 10 at the home of Mrs. C. W. Meadows. Those present were Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. Rebecca Pope, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Frank Bumette, Mrs. Homer L. Easton, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. A. B. Lane, Mrs. I. W. Hemphill, Mrs. Bowen and Mrs. B. E. Garrison.

At the supper hour, prizes for high scores were awarded Mrs. D. G. Wettlin and F. C. Slater, while prizes for low scores went to Mrs. Harry Gail and Homer Larkin. Miss Stinson was presented the guest prize of a lovely bouquet of bright colored spring flowers.

The many local friends of Miss Maxine Phillee, who was formerly an instructor at the Maple street school, will be grieved to hear she is in a very critical condition in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hessel, Mrs. Ellen Mowman, Mrs. E. A. Hessel, Allen Gipple and Mrs. A. A. Dewey motored to Corona and Riverside Tuesday where they called on friends.

Mrs. J. L. Clayton and Mrs. F. M. Gaudin attended the presentation of "The Student Prince" in Los Angeles Wednesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Malbach, who underwent a major operation Tuesday, is slightly improved.

Miss Bernadine Darnell, of Fullerton, was an Orange visitor yesterday.

Fullerton To Name C. of C. Secretary Soon

FULLERTON, Feb. 12.—Selection of a secretary for the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, has now narrowed down to three applicants, according to announcement made at the regular board of directors' meeting, held yesterday noon. Their names were not made public. These three men will be invited to attend next week's meeting of the board, at which time, it is hoped, the definite decision may be made.

PUPILS INSPECT POTTERY STUDIO

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 12.—The class in art appreciation was taken to the studio of Mrs. Lillian Prest Ferguson for the last session. Mrs. Ferguson, who is an exhibitor in the Laguna Beach Art gallery and a member of many other art associations, is also interested in pottery and has her own kiln for drying her individual work. This branch of her art was what was explained to the children of the fifth grade under Miss Helen Fleming. Each step in the making of pottery was shown in detail, the final work being carried to the kiln and deposited therein.

Mrs. Ferguson gave each child enough molding clay for the making of tiny bookends and they were instructed in the manner of finishing the article. Mrs. Ferguson offered to put the finished work in her drying kiln, but the children might keep their pottery for themselves. The next day, during school hours, the pupils were instructed to write compositions on the pottery lecture of the day before. This class in art appreciation, sponsored by the P.-T. A. and carried on under a committee from that organization, has met with great popular support both from the artists of the colony and from the laymen.

H. B. Women Plan 'Vanishing' Lunch

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 12.—The first of a series of "vanishing" lunches, whereby the local Woman's club hopes to raise money for a building fund, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. E. Downs, president of the organization. Mrs. Downs will entertain 10 women at the luncheon and each of the women will pay 50 cents for the meal. Each of these women will in turn entertain six other women and then 60 women will entertain four women each. It is estimated that $155 will be realized for the building fund.

The chairman of the ways and means committee of the Woman's club, Mrs. W. H. Taylor, conceived the plan for the dinners.

Mrs. T. J. Le Bard and son, James Arthur, of Brea, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ross.

ORANGE HOME TOWN LEAGUE ELECTS HEADS

ORANGE, Feb. 12.—With the election of Frank E. Hullman to be chairman and Miss Anna B. Muench to be secretary, the Home Town League, composed of representatives of all the prominent civic organizations, got under way yesterday at the office of the chamber of commerce.

Decision to send 3000 booster letters to residents of Orange, containing arguments for home town loyalty, with return pledge cards having blank space for criticism of any phase of local activity, constituted the first business of the organization.

"There is to be no spurge or grandstand play," remarked V. D. Johnson, chamber of commerce secretary, "but just a quiet appeal to civic loyalty."

The cards which are returned will be classified according to the nature of the criticism and people interested will study ways and means to remedy the wrongs brought to light by this system.

Mesa Scouts To Demonstrate At Church Sunday

COSTA MESA, Feb. 12.—Sunday at 7 p. m. the Scout troop, and a group of local Scouts will put on some demonstration work. The Rev. C. J. Olson and E. G. Teaney will tell of Scout work. Personal experiences with the work and Scout ideals will be given.

ODD FELLOWS OF ORANGE CONFER DEGREE AT BEACH; C. A. PALMER IS SPEAKER

ORANGE, Feb. 12.—Odd Fellows of Orange were honored guests at a degree meeting at Long Beach last evening. Fifty members, including the drill team made the trip to Long Beach to confer degrees upon candidates of Long Beach lodge No. 330.

C. A. Palmer, deputy grand master, who is a resident of Orange, made the address of the evening, when he conferred the 50-year jewel upon C. G. Hall, past grand of North Platte, Neb. This jewel is given only to those who have served 50 years in Odd Fellow work. Distinguished members from all over the United States to the number of 150 attended the degree meeting and watched the drill team from Orange perform. Some who were there were W. L. Powers, past grand master, Massachusetts; J. W. White, past grand master, Iowa; W. R. Merrick, grand trustee of the grand encampment; Fred Hart, Orange, district deputy grand master; Orange; W. J. Harlin, Compton, district deputy grand master.

ARREST RESULTS FROM COLLISION

ORANGE, Feb. 12.—Arrest of E. O. Didier, 35, El Modena pool hall proprietor, yesterday, is the outcome of an auto collision on the highway between Orange County park Christmas day. Didier pleaded not guilty to a charge of reckless driving when hailed before Recorder Ingie. He was allowed to go free on his own recognizance to raise $300 bail, which he posted with the recorder during the afternoon. His trial was set for February 19.

Immediately upon his release, Didier was served with notice of a damage suit by Leonard E. Roe, of Long Beach, attorney for the plaintiff, Mrs. Merle Kennedy.

According to Harry Johnson, the driver of the car in which Mrs. Kennedy was riding at the time of the accident, Didier and his companions were under the influence of liquor when the two machines crashed. Didier and one of his companions were picked up from the completely smashed car in an unconscious condition and with the victims from the other car, were taken to a hospital. Johnson reported that Didier settled immediately with him for the damage done to Johnson's car, but injuries to Mrs. Kennedy are the basis of the suit.

Officer George Peterkin of the traffic squad made the arrest.

Tustin Endeavor Members Frolic

TUSTIN, Feb. 12.—Members of the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a plunge party and wicker bake at Huntington Beach Tuesday night. The Rev. W. S. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mead and Mrs. C. L. Prichard were the chaperones.

ORANGE PLANT IS INSPECTED BY SALESMEN

ORANGE, Feb. 12.—Salesmen of the Klenzall Mop company, of Los Angeles, paid a visit to the plant of the Western Cordage company here yesterday afternoon. The visit to the only rope and twine plant in Southern California is a part of a national advertising campaign to begin soon. The 35 men, headed by T. W. Brown, gave the plant a thorough inspection and at the conclusion of their tour were very enthusiastic over the unusual sight of seeing rope made from the raw hemp, or Philippine abaca. Although most of the raw material used comes from the Philippine Islands, according to O. B. Eller, president and manager of the company, a small quantity has been imported from Sinaloa, Mexico.

The salesmen were shown the six processes through which the fibre is put before it is finally spun into rope of all sizes from 3-16 to 2-1/2 inches. The seventeen workmen on the day shift did their best to make the tour instructive for the visitors and, according to Brown, the visit was doubly interesting because of the willingness of the workmen to illustrate every process.

Mr. Eller told the visitors that the climatic conditions at Orange are peculiarly satisfactory for spinning. In the two years in which the firm has been in operation in Orange, the business has doubled and, affirms the president, will double again this year if the prosperity of the first month of this year is any criterion. The output of rope per day is valued at $1000. Ninety-eight per cent is used in Southern California. The remaining two per cent is shipped as far north as Seattle, and as far east as St. Louis. At present, stated Mr. Eller, the firm has an order of $500 worth of rope for the Hawaiian Islands.

Officers at the head of this concern, besides O. B. Eller, president and manager, are the following: Fred A. Grote, vice president; A. W. Swazey, secretary; Fred H. Alden, treasurer.

PRESIDENT MAY VISIT FAR WEST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The west is slated for another visit from President Coolidge this summer, according to reports current in the wake of the President's announcement that he does not expect to vacation at Swampscott, Mass.

With 14 senate seats at stake in the trans-Mississippi region in the fall elections, the President has been told that a tour of the west, as far as the Pacific coast, would be a great help to the party.

The President has not intimated whether he will undertake the trip, but it is known the reception he received last year at St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha, on his two western invasions, have led him to look kindly on the idea, if it can be arranged.

Republicans look for a stiff fight for all the senatorial seats and the house membership, and desire all the help possible. All the Senators who were elected in 1920 in the Harding landslide are up for re-election, without the pulling power of a strong presidential candidate on the ticket.

The President, if he goes, will not start out until after the primary fights are disposed of, probably early in the fall.

Murdered Man's Daughter Wants To Spring Trap

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Moore Heriford wants to spring the trap when her father's murderer is hanged Saturday.

The condemned man, Alma Grinnel, is to pay the death penalty Saturday unless Gov. Len Small intervenes.

He was convicted of slaying Mrs. Heriford's father, William Steele, a merchant, of Nortonville. Mrs. Heriford has obtained permission to witness the execution.

FOODSTUFF COST CONTINUES HIGH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—American food costs continue to range from 42 to 72 per cent higher in the larger cities than they were in 1913, the last year before the World war.

Washington leads all, with a 72 per cent increase, and Baltimore, Md., is second, with 70 per cent. Atlanta, Ga., Charleston, S. C., and Scranton, Pa., vie for third honors, with 69 per cent.

The labor department has made public this data in connection with statistics showing that, despite decreases in food costs in 20 of 23 reporting cities for the month between December 15 and January 15, food costs jumped in every reporting city in the year ended January 15. During the month mentioned, retail food prices fell slightly, San Francisco benefiting with the greatest drop, 3 per cent.

Lovers In Park; Motor Car Burns; Jealousy Blamed

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—When Eugene Patini again takes his sweetheart out in the park he'll either stay in his machine or walk all the way.

Patini and his girl friend rode into Golden Gate park during the night. Leaving the car, they strolled under the trees to watch the moon.

Returning to the machine, they found it burned to the frame. Patini and the police suspect a jealous suitor.

Miss Mary Fewell, aged ninety-four, has been an inmate of an English poorhouse for seventy-seven years. She declares that she has always felt so comfortable that she has had no desire to leave.

After Sickness Get Strong Quick

New Pleasant Way To Take Cod Liver Oil—Puts on Weight.

Nothing like the wonderful vitalizing vitamins in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

But nobody wants to take the ill-smelling, horrible tasting, stomach upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up to date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil and it surely has a blessing to thousands of people who have been sapped of their natural strength after a severe illness and especially after the Grippe or a stubborn cough or cold.

Ask White Cross Drug Co., C. S. Kelley Drug Co., Matson's or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist is authorized to return your money if you don't take in 5 pounds in 30 days.

Be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—49 Tablets—61 cents—Adv.

Bootlegger Is Shot Dead By Police Officer

LIVINGSTON, Calif., Feb. 12.—After a desperate battle in seizure of an automobile load of liquor, Charles Gorby, night officer of Livingston, shot and killed Del Ortiz, Mexican bootlegger, here.

When Gorby tried to investigate the contents of the machine, Ortiz is declared to have grappled with him. After an exchange of blows, Gorby managed to draw his gun. He shot Ortiz in the shoulder. Ortiz ran around the automobile seeking his revolver and Gorby shot again. From opposite sides of the automobile, the chase continued until Gorby fired through the windshield, the bullet striking Ortiz in the head and instantly killing him.

A large quantity of liquor was found in the car.

Ponzi Detained On Bail of $5000

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 12.—Charles Ponzi has been held in $5000 bail and his wife in $500 bail in criminal court here. Mrs. Ponzi bond will be made, but the final schemer may have to go jail pending plea day, which is next Tuesday. They are charged with illegal land deals.

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Guy Bishop and J. Walter Rankin will both be the possessors of birth-days Saturday of this week. A party has been arranged at the Bishop home by Mr. and Mrs. Bishop and enough people have been invited to make up three bridge tables, a midnight supper, and the feature of the party. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will have as guests, Mr. and Mrs. Brayton Norton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. George S. McCue and Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Champion.

Carl Hind, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hind, was host to a few of his boy friends when the day arrived for his birthday. Among them who were asked were Donald and Stanley Johnson, Wynn Brown, Bobby Peacock, Edwin Hind, Donald Skidmore and a friend from Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cravath were hosts Thursday evening to a group of their friends who like bridge. They asked Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jahraus, C. D. Bronner, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bishop, Fred A. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker Champion, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Deahna, Mrs. Mabelle Lord Frost, Miss Annie Gayne Peake, Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Purpus, L. V. Mallow, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Macbeth, Mrs. A. S. Lewis, Mrs. Frances Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Brayton Norton, Hugo Lindberg, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Warren.

Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Cravath entertained a group of her women friends at bridge. She asked Mrs. J. Mackenzie Brown, of Los Angeles and Laguna Beach; Mrs. Arthur Daniel Casey, of Orange; Mrs. William Swift Daniel, Miss Emilie Boulanger, Miss Harriet Boulanger, Mrs. J. Frank Champion, Mrs. Frank Casey, Mrs. Louis Moulton, of El Toro; Mrs. Brayton Norton, Mrs. Miriam Hedges Smith, Mrs. Vernon Rush, Mrs. Kenneth Browne, Mrs. Fred Mott, Mrs. Vernon Murphy and Miss Mary Gray.

Mrs. Cordelia Smith, who is one of the early pioneers, drove over last Sunday from Colton to visit Joseph S. Thurston, her great great nephew.

Miss Amanda Jacobson, an art teacher, has taken a cottage here for several weeks and will sketch. Miss Jacobson is represented in the present exhibition. She is a pupil of Birger Sandzen.

Karl Yens, the famous artist, who makes his home in Laguna Beach, received the bronze medal at the recent Biltmore Show in Los Angeles.

Miss Anna A. Hills, former president of the Laguna Beach Art association, has had two water colors by the Water Color club, of Washington, D. C. They will be hung in the exhibition at the Corcoran gallery, Washington.

M. B. McMillan, who formerly lived in Detroit, Mich., and who is a member of the famous McMillan family of that city, has returned to his Laguna Beach home after a business trip to the East. He reports splendid business conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Comfort, of Santa Ana, brought down a party of friends to see the coast line scenery recently. In the motor party were Miss Fay Bonebrake, of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Miss Gertrude Swanson, of Norfolk, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morse, of Fremont, Neb.; J. Randall, of Los Angeles; H. Ryan, Belvedere, Kans.; Miss Mae Morse, Fremont, Neb.; Mrs. F. Dually and Mrs. Virginia Wheeler, of Los Angeles. The party returned to Santa Ana the same evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Harley Bowen, of South Pasadena, who also own a home in Laguna Beach, have been occupying their cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Lee, of Cheyenne, Wyo., have been visiting in Laguna Beach this week.

Mrs. Daniel Casey, of Orange, was a Laguna Beach visitor last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner, of Pasadena, who have a big home on the Cliffs, brought a group of friends with them when they came this week.

C. A. Burgfield and Mrs. Bergfeldt, of Kansas City, Mo., were recent Laguna Beach visitors. Mr. Bergfeldt, who is a tailor by profession, is an artist by choice, and has spent much time, money and energy on accumulating a series of sketches done under the guidance of noted artists. He was a pupil of Birger Sandzen, the great Swedish teacher. He has also worked with William Silva, of Carmel by the Sea. From Laguna Beach, the Bergfeldts traveled on to La Jolla.

Crudoil Company Will Drill Well

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 12.—A building permit for an oil derrick was issued to the Crudoil company yesterday according to E. M. Billings, city building inspector. The location is 810 Main street. The well will soon be ready to start in. The cost of the rig was estimated at $1500.

One other building permit has been issued during the past few days. It was to O. B. Hitterdahl, of 528 Eighth street. The permit was for a two-room stucco store building.

Builders' Queries Answered

Q: We have trouble with the windows and walls "sweating" when cooking. Kindly advise if placing a vent above the stove will remedy the situation? If not, what would you suggest?

A: Improper ventilation and the difference in temperature between the inside of the room and the outside causes walls to sweat. A ventilator above the stove will relieve the conditions considerably.

Q: Is it possible to buy woodstone for sinks and a bath room floor and apply the materials ourselves or must we engage a contractor?

A: Woodstone may be purchased, but it is advisable to engage a contractor for this purpose. A contractor who has the equipment and is thoroughly versed in the application of this particular composition will not only give you a better job, but will do the work in much less time and at about the same expense that the materials alone would cost you.

Q: Will you please advise me how long it will take to pay off a loan of $2000 at $25 per month at seven per cent, the payment including interest and principal?

A: It will take 108 months.

Q: Do you think it would be advisable to have an archway built over the driveway which would connect to the house for the purpose of giving the house a better appearance? If so, would you have the archway tiled and about what would the cost be?

A: An archway connecting the house, built over the driveway, if constructed of the same material as the house, which I am given to understand is stucco, will add a great deal to the appearance of the building. Tile placed over the archway will also add to the dignity of the structure. We are unable to give you an estimate of cost. The cost, however, will be exceedingly small compared with the added value to the place.

A: Will you please advise if it is possible to refinish a rough sand finish plaster wall which has been

UNCLE OF PRESIDENT IS NOTED OLD-TIME FIDDLER

"UNCLE" J. J. WILDER

He Is a Little Hesitant, Though, About Having His 'Pitcher' Took

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Feb. 12.—Maine can have its Mellic Dunham. Vermont has "Uncle" Wilder! Mellic may have played for Henry Ford, but "Uncle" J. J. Wilder played for Calvin Coolidge when the president stood on unsteady baby legs kicking his first jlg.

He has fiddled more times than he is years old in the parlor of the old Coolidge home to the accompaniment of the venerable organ which has seen long service with several generations of Coolidges.

He's Uncle of President

He is the president's uncle and, boy, he can fiddle!

During the last few months he has strummed the old strings many times at the bedside of the president's father.

Even this may be insufficient introduction!

Do you happen to remember the quadrille band? No! Well that was just after the Civil war when fiddlers were fiddlers. You had to do something more than make Henry Ford prance to win your plaudits in those days.

"Uncle" was getting away to a fine start then. He became conductor of the Wilder band, but marriage sidetracked this for a time. But he never let himself get out of practice.

The fiddle he uses now isn't his own. One of his neighbors had a fiddle that is a century old and "Uncle" likes the tone so well that he uses it whenever he is going to do some "special stuff."

Doubtful About Photograph
"Uncle" wasn't so sure he wanted his picture taken when newspapermen called on him.

"The president might not like it," he said.

His wife upheld him, but he finally consented to pose in the very room in the old Coolidge mansion in which President Coolidge was born.

Asked what he thought of Mellic's ability, "Uncle" replied: "Well, I'm going to do a little scraping on my own fiddle and then you can tell whether I've got him skunk or not."

A: The smooth plaster finish will not adhere to the walls as they are. It is recommended that the tint be washed off. If you will secure the services of a competent plasterer, the result will be all that could be desired.

Q: Will you please advise if all sidewalks are built on the lot line. If not at what distance?

A: In some sections, the walks are built on the lot line, in other sections at varying distances from the lot line. Call at the city engineer's office for information regarding a certain location.

Dollar Bids for Ships Rejected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—On recommendation of President E. E. Crowley of the fleet corporation, the U. S. shipping board has rejected the Stanley Dollar bid of $600,000 each for the five vessels of the Admiral-Oriental Steamship line, which operates out of Puget sound to the Orient.

The entire matter was referred back to President Crowley, with instructions to negotiate further with Dollar or any other prospective purchaser and report back to the board within 10 days.

The rejection of the Dollar offer was based on the double ground that it was not a bona fide bid in accordance with the terms of the advertisement and that the price was considered inadequate.

Household Economics

An enjoyable luncheon whose decorative details and appetizing menu were expressive of the valentine season, prefaced the business meeting of the fifth household economics section. Tuesday, with Mrs. Edward Walker and Mrs. Otto Haan as hostesses.

Following luncheon the members discussed methods of raising money for the clubhouse and elected to put several of the plans into execution in the near future. The first event will be a rummage sale within the month, with the exact date to be announced later.

The program featured an interesting paper on the "Origin of Valentine Day" by Mrs. Walker who went back in antiquity nearly three centuries B. C. to the time of a christian bishop in Rome, Valentine, who befriended the soldiers doomed to bachelorhood because it was the belief of the authorities that single men fought better than married ones. Valentine arranged secret marriages for the soldiers and eventually became noted as the true lovers' patron saint. Hence the choice of his name for the day of lovers, the world over.

An entertaining valentine game followed with Mrs. Hugh Shields taking first prize and Mrs. Calvin Powers, second. Nineteen members and one guest, Mrs. M. D. Borgmeyer, a sister of Mrs. W. H. Haddon, were present to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Haan and Mrs. Walker.

It's Common Folk
Who Get Joy
From Life

By CYNTHIA GREY

It is no longer considered indecent to expose one's soul, to discuss one's happiness or unhappiness, one's hopes for the future and tears for the past.

Once upon a time, a poet of the old school said that "no gentleman discussed either his love affairs or his religion."

But in this day and age when the reflexes of a man and woman and his or her "mental age" are recorded before the party can get a job or a marriage license, when every novelist turns the poor old human anatomy wrongside out, it is quite the thing to discuss whether one is or is not happy, if not, why not, and if so, why should he be?

People, all people, prattling about "their right to happiness."

I lived not long ago with Janice. Janice devours all the psychoanalytic boys. Her Bible is Freud and Tridon. She doubts that such a thing as love exists. All love, says Janice, is based on the grossest, most selfish desires. She says that her own mother's so-called love for her is merely her mother's love for something which she herself created. Self-esteem. Vanity.

Janice's mother is one of those women "of the old school."

It was a perfect little dinner that her mother set for us on an oval table that intrigued my fancy.

Happy in my interest, her mother told me of her weeks of search through the city's second hand shops to find that little table. Told how she had cleaned it and stained it and waxed it until the beauty inherent within it had been brought forth.

Golden daffodils glowed in a sapphire bowl in the table center, and her mother told me how she had made that bowl herself from modelling clay and painted it with oils.

She showed me her winter window boxes full of budded epicy hyacinth, daffodils and rosy tulips.

Janice tossed off her creamed mushroom soup and veal birds indifferently, still prattling on about America's lack of sophisticated smartness, evidently bored with her mother's exclamations of respect.

Dinner over, the mother, her eyes sparkling, her cheeks pink, showed me some new bits of pottery she had found in her second hand shop rambles, a luncheon set she had just embroidered, some bedroom drapes she had made from amber gauze.

As we sat later before the blazing wood fire in the living room, made the thing of rest and beauty it was by this tranquil little woman, I studied the faces of the old and new generation.

When Janice is her mother's age she will look 20 years older. Her real woman's self is being smothered under this weight of smartness and sophistication which is the pose of so many of today's girls.

I am almost ashamed to admit to my sophisticated friends that I can get real joy out of such mundane, unattractive Main Street pastimes as going to market, prowling around among cheeses and fruits and vegetables, going home to try dumping one pound of macaroni into one soup kettle full of one pound of hamburger and three onions, and waiting to see what happens!

I am actually afraid to tell Janice that I get a certain thrill out of spreading my freshly laundered luncheon set upon my gilded table, putting the table before the fireplace, depositing my blue and gold china upon it, and proceeding to pour "a drop of tea" for the friend within my walls.

I wonder if the folks who chatter and prattle and blab so much about being happy, and yet who prattle equally shrilly about "common dumb people," might not take a few neuroathenic wrinkles out of their faces if they dared be human and "ordinary!"

I wonder, heresy though it may seem in this day of giving the palm to sophistication and scorn of common things, if the happiest people aren't those who are interested in the most "common things."

Is this your

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12

If so, "justice for all" will be your motto through life. You have no time for racial hatreds and religious prejudices.

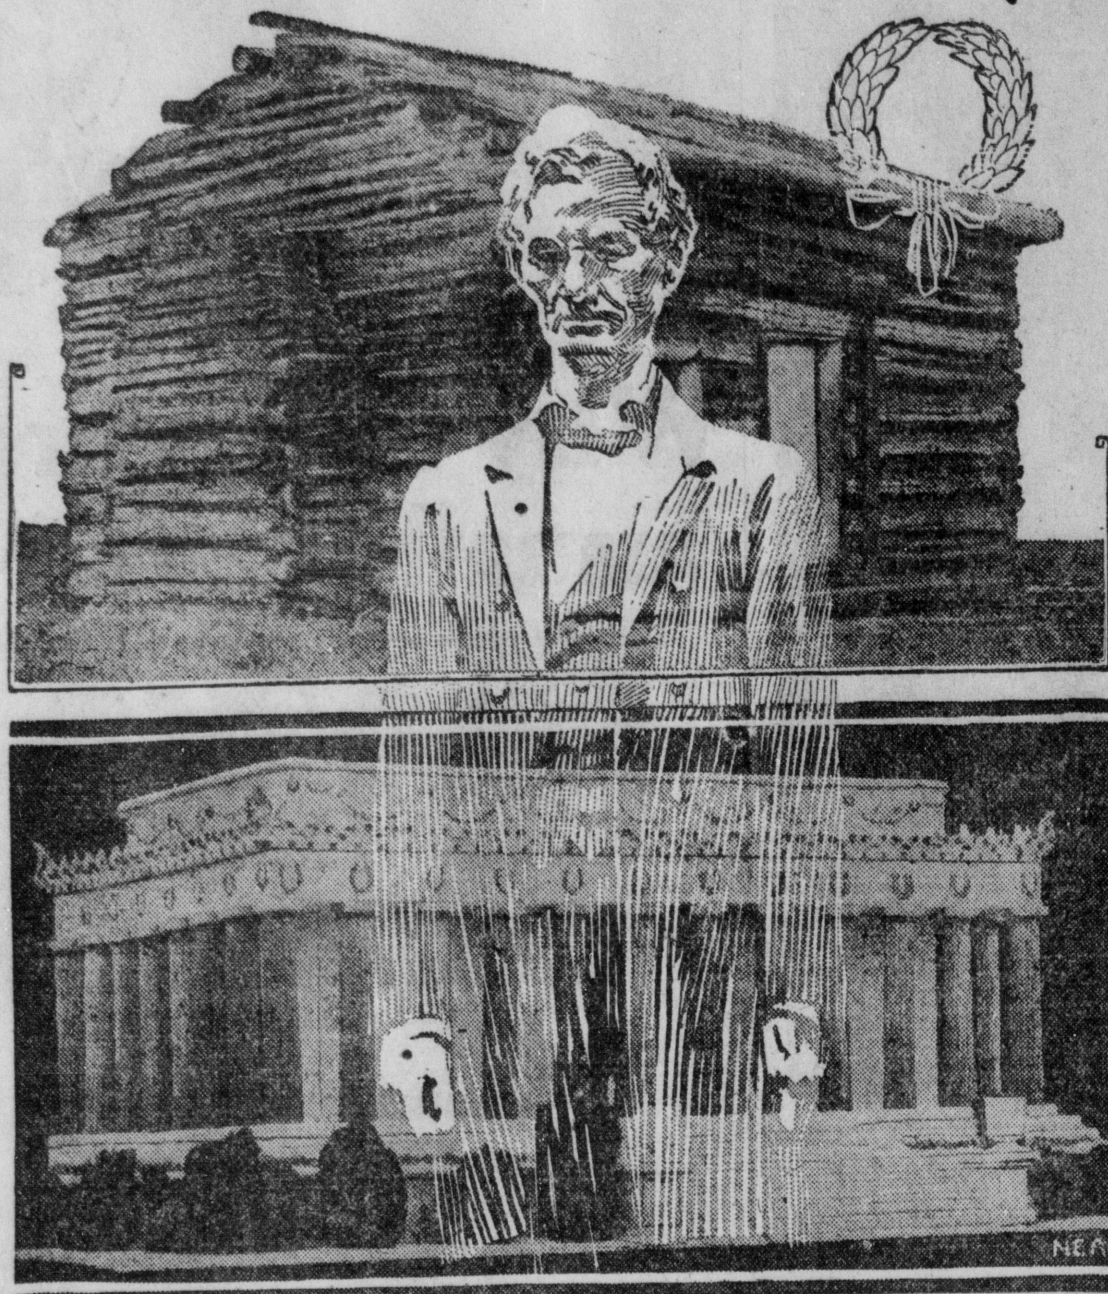

Broadmindedness, together with a liberal and charitable nature will follow you to an old age.

A keen sense of humor will be a great aid in helping you work from a lowly position to a high one. You must not lose courage.

You will love children, and women born on this date make good housekeepers.

At the age of 78, Mrs. Mary F. S. Toy, of Hartford, Conn., has published her first novel.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Down in Kentucky, in a distant, secluded district of the rolling foothills, there stands a rude, primitive log cabin. It is a desolate little building, almost a hovel; and yet it is one of the greatest buildings in the world.

In Washington, fronting a wide, placid pool of water, rises a building which is everything the log cabin is not. It is spacious, stately, beautiful, built of marble to endure centuries. And it was raised to honor the memory of the man who was born in the squalid cabin.

The log cabin was Abraham Lincoln's birthplace, the building at Washington is the Lincoln Memorial most beautiful of all the capital's monuments.

Considering first the one building and then the other, one wonders if people, centuries hence, will not almost think that Abraham Lincoln was a myth.

For the whole story of the man seems more like a tale that somebody invented than the actual biography of a real man. It is perfect—almost unbelievable. A boy born in a mean hut in a primitive, backwoods settlement—doomed, one would think, to a life of unthinking toll and an obscure grave; raised without education other than that which he dug out for himself by the light of a tallow candle; entirely without those advantages which the poorest citizens have today; we have this boy growing and expanding to the proportions of a Titan, rising in majesty and strength until he stands forth as one of the greatest figures the New World has produced! Is that not like a fairy tale?

And, as if that were not enough, we have this man raising the common touch; a man whose sympathies were as limitless as his vision; a man homely, commonplace, one of the vast crowd; a man with whom we feel we could sit down and joke as comfortably with as we could with the man next door.

And that, perhaps, is the greatest miracle of all. Lincoln is the one hero whom we, who never saw him, can truly love and as we admire. We feel that he is one of us, for all his greatness—that his awkward, tender smile flashed for John the bootblack and Tony the street cleaner as warmly as for little Tad

Lincoln, who used to bounce on the great man's knee.

So we—Lincoln's people—have preserved the rude Kentucky hut from destruction simply because he lived there, and we have built a dazzling beautiful building in our capital—not to keep his memory alive, for it can never die, but to show to the world something of the depth of our feeling for the backwoods boy who rose to the seat of the mighty.

And day after day the stone figure of the great emancipator sits in the marble building and looks out over the blue lagoon to where the white finger of the Washington monument rises toward the sky. And as we look at the silent, majestic figure we feel that he is watching us, his countrymen, as we grow and develop and struggle on toward the distant, shining goal that he saw so clearly; watching us with love and understanding, even with tolerance for the flannel-mouthed politicians who invoke his name so glibly; knowing that he was not mistaken in his people, and that we will go on and on, forever, in the path he found for us.

MENUS for the FAMILY

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed figs with orange juice, cereal, thin cream, broiled ham, creamed potatoes, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Baker rice, celery sandwiches, cake crumb pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—Stuffed baked sparrows, candied sweet potatoes, combination cabbage salad, whole wheat bread, apple slump, milk, coffee.

This dinner is planned to warm the cookies of the wintry heart. Well baked sparrows made savory by its stuffing, the snappy salad of fashionable vegetables and the old-fashioned apple dessert will put cheer into the icy-est and bleakest of northern evenings.

Stuffed Baked Sparrows • Two short lengths of sparrows, 4 cups bread crumbs, 2 medium sized onions, 1-2 cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 egg, milk to moist, salt and pepper.

Wipe meat and securely bind the two pieces together to make a "crown." Rub with salt and pepper. Peel and mince onions. Combine with bread crumbs, butter, celery, salt and pepper and egg slightly beaten. Heat milk and add enough to make moist but not sticky.

Fill crown of pork with stuffing and put into roaster. Roast two and one-half hours in a hot oven, basting frequently with the drippings in the pan. Remove to hot platter when done and cut away the cord. The meat will keep its shape after cooking.

To serve cut between the ribs into the stuffing. Serve as many ribs with stuffing for each portion as preferred.

SHORT SHOTS

Once upon a time gifts were exchanged on Valentine's Day as much as they now are at Christmas time.

St. Valentine met an untimely death by choking on a fish bone.

St. Valentine was a martyr, thrown into prison for his faith. He is said to have cured the jailer's daughter of blindness.

The custom of sending valentines dates back to the day when "the marriage lottery" was a custom. Names of marriageable maidens were placed in a box and youths who would marry drew the names forth.

To guarantee that a maiden would dream of a youth on Valentine's Day she used a charm. It consisted of boiling an egg, removing the yolk, filling the cavity with salt, and eating eggs, salt and shell, retiring without speaking, and drinking no water until dawn.

In merry olde days of England girls pinned bay leaves to their pillows on Valentine's Eve and believed that the wedded within a year the lad of whom they dreamed.

The first valentines in verse were composed by Charles, Duke of Orleans, taken prisoner by the English at the battle of Agincourt and thrown into the Tower of London. He wrote hundreds of valentine verses.

A girl graduate of Mount Holyoke Seminary, a Miss Esther Howland, started the valentine trade in America. In 1849 she received a valentine from England and proceeded to make some of her own. She sold $5000 worth at once and $100,000 worth when at the height of her business.

MY BRIDGE PARTNERS

My partner never holds the cards, And when I pass he goes to "four";

My hand he scornfully regards, He thinks I should have something more.

My partner is the one who makes So many horrible mistakes.

My partner won't return my lead, And when I bid, he takes me out.

He doubles when there is no need, He leaves me floundering about.

He may know how to play, but he Trumps high cards when he plays with me.

I always get him when he's bad; Or has been up too late at night;

No luck at bridge I've ever had, My partner's never really right.

I get him when he's in the dumps, And cannot even count the trumps.

It is my luck always to hear: "I'm sorry, partner, I forgot! I should have led a club, I fear."

I cannot explain why I did not, All that my partners do for me is offer an apology.

Oh, partner, just before I pass Forever from life's little game; Just once I wish you'd show your class,

Just once support a trump I name, I'll die with one exultant shout, Then gladly let you take me out.

ADVENTURES
by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
NO. 5—A QUEER TOLL GATE

So saying he spread out his large wings on either side of him until the road was completely covered.

"Where does Blue Whiskers live?" Nancy went to ask, but all her poor twisted tongue could say was "Eeny, meeny, miny, mo!"

Jupe, however, did not laugh. "I understand you," said the kangaroo kindly. "You wish to ask about Blue Whiskers' castle. It's too bad you children cannot talk, but if we go about it right, your troubles will soon be over. Blue Whiskers himself is a wizard who can do anything. If you had only come in by the wicket gate, everything would have been different."

Nick tried to say, "But we didn't know anything about the wicket gate. Our magic green shoes just brought us here—pop!"

But all he could say was, "All around the market place the monkey chased the weasel—that's the way the money goes—pop! goes the weasel."

But again Jupe understood. However, this time he didn't reply, but led the way through a woods toward a high hill, the Twins following on their skates.

"The next place we have to pass on the way to Blue Whiskers' castle," said he, "is the toll-gate. It's a queer toll-gate, but don't be astonished. Nothing will hurt you."

Suddenly the Twins saw a large blue bat sitting on a stone in the middle of the road. It was quite a large bat, about the size of a churn, and his ears looked like the ears of a very large and curious rabbit. His wings were folded and he sat very still, not moving a muscle except that his eyes blinked like Fourth-of-July sparklers. By that you know that he was not only awake, but thinking rapidly.

"Toll, please!" he said with two snaps of his jaws.

"How much is it today?" asked

Jupe.

"As no travelers have passed since two days before yesterday, I am very hungry," said the bat. "The toll today is one pint of flies, one pint of lady-bugs and six ounces of buzzers."

The twins wondered what buzzers were, but they were soon to know. "Dear, dear!" muttered the kangaroo. "Things are getting more expensive every day. Even toll-gates! Couldn't you reduce it a little? I've got the mosquitoes all right, and the flies, but lady-bugs are scarce this year."

"I've taken quite a liking to lady-bugs," said the long-eared bat, "and if I can't have them, you can't pass."

So saying, he spread out his large wings on either side of him until the road was completely covered. Suddenly Jupe had an idea. "I know of a new kind of bug," he said. "I know where there's a whole bag full. It's hanging on a tree and I can lift it down with my tail."

Away he bounded and came back soon with a round thing that looked like a gray paper bag turned upside down.

"Here you are," said he laying the bag down in front of the bat's nose. "Curious! Curious!" said the bat. "I never had bugs served up to me in a bag before."

At that a big wasp crawled slowly out of the hole in the gray paper bag.

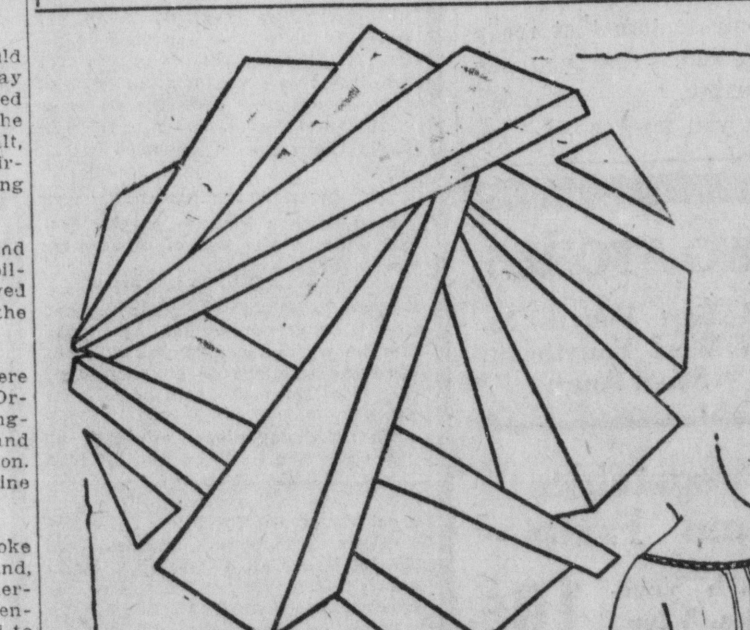

And before you could say "boo" he had jumped onto the bat's nose and stung him.

"Ouch!" shrieked the bat, flapping his wings and flying away.

"Come along," said Jupe. "The toll-gate's gone. That's what happens to people who get too greedy."

A FUTURIST MOTIF

By RUBY SHORT McKIM

Not only the motif is up to the minute, but its smart placing was suggested by a frock in advanced spring showing. It's easy to copy, too, and maybe just the touch you need on those new sleeves.

The embroidery is in solid or satin stitch in vivid colors, coral, jade and violet, or rose, buff and turquoise. Small squares that repeat a color, form continuing lines.

A Thought

But when thou does alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth.—Matt. 6:3.

FREE
Panoramic Exhibition and Lecture

No one who is interested in money making can possibly afford to remain in ignorance of what is happening on the East Side.

It is an example for the whole world in community building, and what it took Chicago five years to accomplish is being done here in one. On the one side, millions are being spent in the erection of factories and in the development of a strictly industrial and manufacturing center, while on the other, within five minutes' drive of this industrial center, a residential and business community is being developed in Montebello Park to accommodate and serve the multitude of people who are being drawn to the East Side by reason of this industrial growth.

To give the public an opportunity to seriously inform themselves regarding the transformation that is now taking place on the East Side which, by the way, is the most important that has taken place in the whole growth of the city, the Ransom Organization has had prepared at great expense a panoramic exhibition showing at a glance and in concrete form what has been and what is being done in the development of this new and wonderful extension of the City of Los Angeles, eastward, a new city in the making, which, it is estimated, will contain a population of 200,000 or more people. This exhibition is now open to the public and is being visited by thousands of people. A dignified and sensible lecture is given every day at 12:30 sharp for the purpose of giving facts of importance to the public and to explain the exhibits.

Montebello Park now is so filled with money-making opportunities that those who really desire to make big money should by all means see this exhibition and obtain the facts.

The public is cordially invited and will be given an opportunity to see at a glance the most wonderful development that has so far taken place in the history of the city.

Drive to the Tract Office on Whittier Boulevard, 6 1/2 miles east of Los Angeles, where representatives will show you exhibits in the Montebello Park Administration Building. It is only 15 minutes from Seventh and Broadway.

Lecture is at 12:30 sharp. If desired, we will gladly take you to Montebello Park without cost or obligation. Appointments made by calling 2455.

Blast Disturbs Police Station

A sudden explosion, resembling the firing of a Big Bertha, occurred at the police station Wednesday night and caused brave officers to draw their guns and await a second blast, but none came.

The explosion occurred in an ante-room, and when an investigation was made it was found that a bottle of beer, seized in a recent raid, had blown up.

Six other bottles, stored with the one that exploded, also blew up when officers attempted to take them to a place of safety away from city property. Officer E. A. Hershey was given a backache when one bottle exploded in his hands.

COSTA MESA, Feb. 12.—George Teaney has bought the building formerly used as the Courier office and print shop. He has moved it to his property on Eighteenth street. This is being fitted up as a paint shop and store. He plans to have ample room to paint autos, refinish furniture, etc.

CONFERENCE OF S. A. INDUSTRIAL MEN IS CALLED

A conference of representatives of industrial in Santa Ana with the industrial committee of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce has been called for Monday, at 7:30 p. m., in the chamber of commerce office. It was announced yesterday by Geo. Raymer, secretary, at the weekly meeting of the board of directors.

Raymer, who last week assumed the position of secretary, is eager to meet industrialists of the city and will be present at the conference.

"Industrial development in Santa Ana is one of the important factors incident to stabilizing the financial prosperity of this city," Raymer said today. "To secure a new industry for Santa Ana is of great importance, but it is equally important that industries we now have within the confines of our city be patronized so that each may become a stabilizing influence in our community life."

The secretary said that he had extended invitations to all industrial concerns of which he had a record and requested that concerns who may have been overlooked send representatives to the meeting.

The directors approved a bill, to be introduced in congress, prohibiting the sending of merchandise through the mail, or otherwise, on condition that the recipients either remit the purchase price or return the goods.

Other subjects pertaining to chamber activities were discussed.

The directors acknowledged a courtesy shown the new secretary by Sam Forney, manager of the Santa Paper company, in Los Angeles, and other Los Angeles friends, in printing 450 copies of an attractive announcement of his acceptance of the position and forwarding them here for distribution. The complimentary printing of the announcement came as a complete surprise to the secretary.

Whereabouts Of Heirs to Large Estate Unknown

A $45,000 estate in Orange county today awaited a claimant.

The whereabouts of relatives of the late J. H. Brunner, who died in San Bernardino February 3, are not known, according to Public Administrator Charles D. Brown, who had filed a petition in superior court for appointment as administrator of the Brunner estate.

The heirs formerly lived in Switzerland, but nothing is now known of their residence, the petition states.

Brunner left cash, bonds and other securities and a $10,000 parcel of real estate in Santa Ana.

Early Garden Needs

IT IS EASY TO MAKE GARDEN, OR TO HAVE A FINE LAWN OR PRETTY FLOWERS IF YOU HAVE HANDY IMPLEMENTS TO USE IN GETTING THE GROUND IN SHAPE IN THESE EARLY SPRING DAYS.

A Strong Fork      The Right Rake      A Host of Hoes

Our forks are of steel whose tines will spring right and give that grip and thrust that makes forking easier and more quickly done. We have forks for every purpose.

Some rakes are for cleaning the surface, some for fining the ground, and some for cultivating between plants—we can fix you up with just the rake you want.

We have a hoe for every need. Weed hoes, garden hoes, scuffle hoes. And all of them of the best of steel mounted in clean straight grain handles.

As this goes to copy, we see some nice large clouds rolling in from the Southeast, and we see that the barometer is where it should be—so let it rain—and do not fail to get your guess in. Guessing closes February 20.

THE UNSCHOOLED LINCOLN

A recent biographer says that Abraham Lincoln could have gone to college if he had wanted to. There were small, comparatively inexpensive colleges in the part of the country in which Lincoln lived. The biographer assumes that Lincoln chose the political path early and decided that he could advance along it more directly by self-education than by a college course.

This raises the speculation as to what college might have done to or for Lincoln. Such "ifs" are not really profitable. It is of more value to study Lincoln's life as he lived it than as he might have lived it.

He was a great man and a great president. He was great in his simplicity and in his sincerity, great in his understanding of his fellow-men and in his vision of his country's needs and perils.

His achievements as president of the United States are matter for thankful pride to citizens today. His life is a source of inspiration to youthful Americans. He is deeply revered and loved today by a united nation.

FIRST AID IS LEMONADE

He may have been, and as a matter of fact undoubtedly was, a faker; but he was certainly a booster for Southern California lemon groves.

Charles M. Robinson, of Hartford, Conn., has been running what he was pleased to call a "Lemon Health Institute." As head of the institute, and upon advance payment of $500.00 Robinson agreed to cure one Samuel Collis of an internal growth.

The cure which was supposed to give relief, according to Collis, was as follows: First day, 6 lemons; second day, nine lemons; third day, twelve lemons; fourth day, fifteen lemons; fifth day, eighteen lemons, and sixth day, twenty-one lemons.

Getting no relief after the sixth day, Mr. Collis consulted the head of the institute and was told to repeat the treatment.

Now, it would really seem that the use of twenty-one lemons a day ought to cure most anything, but the patient in this particular instance was not patient, and, refusing to devour any more lemons, he appealed to the courts to get his money back.

OLD CONVENTION PLAN REVIVED

While the Democrats of California have not declared themselves as opposed to the direct primary system of nominating candidates, and a return to the old convention system, there are evidences that many Democrats lean that way.

To be perfectly frank about it, there are many Republicans who believe that the system of selecting party nominees now in use in this state, in some respects is not as satisfactory as was the old convention method.

Our own attitude toward the direct primary, we admit, has undergone something of a change since the days when the Register was numbered among those who earnestly fought for its development under California law, but we are still for it. The direct primary was the vehicle by which the state threw off the yoke of political corruption and Southern Pacific domination, and for that alone the direct primary is not to be carelessly condemned. We believe that the direct primary, with all its faults and limitations, is a safeguard against political corruption that ought not to be cast aside. It has been and will remain an important factor in keeping California in the hands of the people rather than allowing it to return to the hands of big business.

However, the Democratic party of California is taking what is at least one step toward the old plan; it will hold a pre-primary convention to be composed of at least seventy-five members of the party from each congressional district, and with not less than five persons from any one county.

These delegates shall be selected by the respective County Central committees. It is expected that this convention will name the men who shall be chosen to run for the various nominations.

It may be claimed that such procedure does not nullify the direct primary plan of making nominations, but it is certainly a gesture along that line. However, the members of the party, through the direct primary, will still have the last say. There can be no objection to conferences, such as is proposed by the Democratic leaders, so long as there remains with the people an opportunity to overrule any program that might be against good public policy.

RURAL SCHOOL PARENTS

A joint committee of the National Education association and the American Medical association has stated that "The country schoolhouse is the worst, the most insanitary and inadequate type of building in the whole country, including not only buildings for human beings, but also those used for domestic animals."

"Rural school children are less healthy and are handicapped by more physical defects than are the children of the cities, including even the children of the slums."

This is a pretty strong indictment. But a survey of New York state demonstrated that the county with the highest standards of rural school conditions came up only to 25 per cent of what are considered minimum requirements for health and safety in schools.

Dr. S. Josephine Baker, who took part in one of these surveys, reports in The Country Gentleman that the answers of teachers as to the greatest need of country schools were practically unanimous. "Interest taken by parents" was their vote.

CREATIVE ADVERTISING

A new tendency is said to have shown itself in Canadian advertising. Several large manufacturing concerns have ceased to advertise their own products primarily and are giving their space to advertising Canada.

For example, a concern making electrical equipment has been using large space in daily and periodcal publications to set forth Canada's wealth of hydro-electric power. Questioned as to this policy, the general sales manager explains his belief in "creative" rather than "competitive" advertising.

It is more important at this time, he maintains, to build up confidence in Canada and to improve conditions generally than to concentrate on selling one's own wares. National enthusiasm and national ambition, if properly stimulated and cultivated, will have a fine influence on the business conditions of the whole nation. With this development, electrical equipment or any other Canadian products will sell themselves.

MUCH TIMBER SAVED

There are ways to conserve lumber besides the planting and care of trees, urged by forestry men. The American Wood Preservers' association reports that one-eleventh of the timber cut in America is being "preservatively treated." That makes it last about twice as long when used for railroad ties, fence posts, telegraph posts, etc. It may amount to saving 300,000,000 cubic feet of lumber a year.

There is a huge saving now in logging and saw-mill methods, and a more economical use of lumber by builders.

Cement products are reducing the use of timber. The first thing we know, through conservation we may find timber production working upward toward timber consumption.

Marriage Should Be No Bar

A delegation of women recently appeared before the Pasadena Board of Education and asked that body to "abandon the practice of requesting the resignation of women teachers in case of marriage, and of considering married women ineligible to election to permanent teaching positions."

The petition set forth the alleged fact that Pasadena is the only district in the state with such a ruling, and that the practice added to the "lamentable lack of permanency in the profession." It was held that the child's welfare, in the broadest sense, could be best promoted by choosing teachers on a basis of character, native ability, training and experience.

In conclusion, the petition quoted a leading educator to the effect that "married women teach for one or two reasons—either they need the money, or they love the work so much that they are valuable to the profession."

It would appear that about all the sound logic and good arguments are with the women who presented the petition.

A woman who is well qualified for teacher in the public schools before marriage is surely none the less qualified after marriage, for we have it on very high authority that "marriage is honorable in all."

Making the Shannon Real

If a school boy pranked at Rock Island has given personality to the League of Nations, an uprising of the weather has brought reality to another sort of idealism.

For the most of us, Europe is but a legend, a story, usually a bit of romance. One of the most romantic and really the most mythical of the parts of Europe, for the people of the United States, is Ireland. We know of it by song and tale, rather than by the work-a-day details of ordinary life. We know of the river Shannon because it is named in an Irish song. Men talk of returning to the Shannon who would never think of going back to it, if they had ever seen it, and others sing of the Shannon who have no notion whether it is north or south, whether it flows into the sea or into some other river or lake. It is just poetry.

And now we have stories of the great floods in Europe, including Great Britain. And among the rivers that have become very practical in their obstreperousness is the Shannon. It is overflowing the lowlands of Limerick and Clare. It submerges cottages and castles alike. In its bumptiousness, it brings misery to its people, even as it has given heart throbs and dreams to men and women who have never seen it and know nothing of what it is.

Can't Agree with La Rue

The Press has a high opinion of the professional ability of E. C. La Rue and this paper is naturally interested in him as a former Riversidean. However, the Press is not prepared to admit that he knows more about the Colorado river development from an engineering standpoint than Herbert Hoover, William Mulholland, A. P. Davis of the reclamation service and other eminent engineers. They are all agreed that a high dam "at or near Boulder canyon" is the correct solution; Mr. La Rue thinks they are all wrong, but the only engineering authorities who agree with him are those representing private power companies. Their testimony is not only ex parte but selfish; and the people generally will consider with great respect the views of men like Hoover and Mulholland.

Surgeon General, United States Health Service

IMPROVING HEALTH OF YOUR CITY
How healthy is the community in which you live? Without accurate statistics covering births and deaths you cannot know. With these statistics, you may be able to give your local health officer such support as will aid materially in increasing the healthfulness of your city.

Nor is this all. Morbidity statistics, that is, statistics showing the prevalence of disease in your community are also of interest and importance to you. Morbidity statistics are again of particular interest to your health officer because they show him the amount of disease occurring in his territory that enables him to plan his work and to keep watch for outbreaks of disease. They assist him, also, in instituting proper control measures for each new case as it occurs and in this way he can throw the proper safeguards about the uninfected in the community.

Marriage statistics have their greatest usefulness in furnishing information relative to social life and the growth of population through births. The number of married women under 40 years of age in a community is a determining factor in the birth rate and may explain a very marked difference which may exist between the birth rates of two communities of practically equal population. Marriage statistics are also of value in determining property rights of children and widows.

One of the most important ways in which you may make your influence felt is to furnish your local health officer with adequate support and sufficient funds with which to obtain the statistical information which will throw a light upon the health development and welfare of your community.

SPIRIT of LINCOLN

by HAL COCHRAN

The world's ne'er forgetting the sort of a man
Who lives in an unselfish way,
Who does, for all others, the best that he can,
And never expects any pay.
Whose heart and whose soul have been lost in the task Of serving—well ready to give
Of things that, unconsciously, man seems to ask.
That make life far better to live.

Though back to the dust may the body return;
The being may pass on for aye;
The light of the soul and the spirit can burn
When good deeds have made it that way.
A great admiration is easy to hold;
Respect is the feeling you'll find
When all of the world hears the story that's told,

Culture, What Is It?

By Matthew Arnold.

The disparagement of culture makes its motive curiosity; sometimes, indeed, they make its motive mere exclusiveness and vanity. The culture which is supposed to plume itself on a smattering of Greek and Latin is a culture which is begotten by nothing so intellectual as curiosity; it is valued either out of sheer vanity and ignorance or else as an engine of social and class distinction, separating its holder, like a badge or tile, from other people who have not got it.

No serious man would call this culture, or attach any value to it as culture at all. To find the real ground for the very different estimate which serious people will set upon culture, we must find some motive for culture in the terms of which may lie a real ambiguity, and such a motive the word curiosity gives us.

Montesquieu says:
"The first motive which ought to impel us to study is the desire to augment the excellence of our nature, and to render an intelligent being yet more intelligent."

This is the true ground to assign for the genuine scientific passion, however manifested, and for culture, viewed simply as a fruit of this passion; and it is a worthy ground, even though we let the term curiosity stand to describe it.

But there is of culture another view in which not solely the scientific passion, the sheer desire to see things as they are, natural and proper in an intelligent being, appears as the ground of it. There is a view in which all the love of our neighbor, the impulses toward action, help and beneficence, the desire of removing human error, clearing human confusion, and diminishing human misery, the noble aspiration to leave the world better and happier than we found it—motives eminently such as are called social—come in as part of the grounds of culture, and the main and pre-eminent part.

Culture is then properly described, not as having its origin in curiosity, but as having its origin in the love of perfection; it is a study of perfection. It moves by the force, not merely or primarily of the scientific passion or pure knowledge, but also of the moral and social passion for doing good. As, in the first view of it, we took for its worthy motto Montesquieu's words, "To render an intelligent being yet more intelligent"; so in the second view of it, there is no better motto which it can have than these words of Bishop Wilson: "To make reason and the will of God prevail."

Worth While Verse

SEA SAVOR

Here in these mountains I can smell the sea,
Perhaps from odor born within my heart
Whose bitterness inherent salt may be.
When winds flare up at twilight and mists start
To fog the valley, I must climb a hill
And fling my heart against each wavy crest
Until it swims blue distance and can fill With transient peace. Though altitude be best For languid souls, I tire of stony ways:
Some twilight I shall not come back with dew
But find a river; follow gulfs and bays
Out where, though foam, I may be part of blue
Which waits for evening drifters who—like me—
Immuned by mountains still can smell the sea.

The Patchwork Quilt

BY ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT
(Have you any patches to add to it?)

I MUST LOVE BEAUTY
I must love Beauty very much to-day.
Must twine my fingers in her flying tresses,
Press closer to her heart while yet I may
And woo her with my lingering caresses.
I must seek Beauty in that soft gray hour
When dawn steals on the darkness without warning
And like the gracious blooming of a flower,
Is suddenly a blue and silver morning.

Dawn is so fair—and fairer, sweeter still,
Are perfumes of a garden filled with flowers;
The simple things, like flocks upon a hill
That slowly browse through drowsy spring-time hours.
Beauty, they try to tell me, is so brief
And life so long with weeping and with sorrow.
Ah me, how wrong! 'Tis Beauty that endures
And must be loved—I may be gone tomorrow.

CHRONICLES OF THE LITTLE GRAY HOUSE
Once upon a time (as all true fairy stories should begin) there hung on a wall in the Little Gray House a pastel picture done by one of my sisters in the misguided days of her youth. It depicted a vernal hillside and was all in the vaguely lovely tints that pastel offers as a medium of artistic expression.

It offended Tall Son's aesthetic taste so extremely however, that finally it was banished to the garage where it eventually met the sad fate of being torn from its neat gold frame and consigned to the scrap basket. Which is neither here nor there for it was by no means a work of art—only sometimes I have regretted its passing—it was so extremely like the hazy, pastel-tinted California days we have known this winter.

Have you ever known anything so lovely as the distant mauve hills with their deep purple shadows and the golden, sun-washed air? No matter which direction you gaze, you see one of William A. Griffith's beautiful Californian scenes—those exquisite bits which he transfers to dull canvas and paper, thereby creating beauty. William A. Griffith by the way, has selected pastel as one of his favorite mediums, using a fixative that renders it as time-proof as an oil painting. And say what you will, there is nothing that can so perfectly reproduce California—golden California—gloriously beautiful California, as pastels.

It was not sent to me for a valentine, but it was such a particularly "The High Exalted Negro Flying" sharing my "Message from Doris" with Quilt readers as a valentine love song. Doris found it in a February "House and Garden" of a year or so ago and saved it because of its beauty. And then sent it to me from a heaven-kissing spot.

Well, that all depends on the viewpoint, it wouldn't seem much to Cressus, pop sed.

Whose he? I sed, and pop sed, Cressus was one of the richest men that ever ate a caviar sandwich, and that one of the reasons a billion dollars wouldn't seem much to him, and another reason is, the poor fellow is sed.

Well is a million dollars much? I sed.

It would seem more to me than it would to John D. Rockefeller, but on the other hand John would have a certain amount of respect for it also, pop sed.

Well how about a thousand dollars, is that much? I sed.

Ah, now your almost twanking in my native tint, pop sed. I could carry a thousand dollars in my pocket and scarcely feel the slightest embarrassment, although I might add that I don't expect to be put to the test, he sed.

Well how about a hundred dollars? I sed.

A meep bag of shells, I don't think any more of a hundred dollars, to give you a conservative estimate, than I do of the index finger on my left hand, pop sed.

Well pop, will you give me a nickel? I sed.

No, if you will pardon a short answer, pop sed.

Which he dident, me feeling almost as disappointed as wat I would of felt if he had sed no he wouldent give me a billion.

A paneled door—a bit of lacquer with a crimson scarf;
A polished floor; a deep blue bowl with purple heather from the moor;
The solemn clock, so stately and so tall,—the spindled-wind of stair-case, in the hall.
A print, all blues and blacks, and misty grays—
And here and there, a subtle touch of rose—
A low-sung couch, long silken cushions on the floor—
Soft-shaded lamps, and books—aye, by the score!
All these and many more,—I love.

The silvered service, with its fragile cups—
The reminiscent chatter of the one who sups.
The spinnet, through the corner, which though mute, still sings
Of bygone days and by-gone things.
Old things I love.

I love the quiet crunch of pebbled walks—
The shrill note of the peacock, as he proudly stalks.
The sameness of today, and other days—
The rose—the blues—the purples—fading into grays;
The twilight haze,
These are my loves!

Edna Galt Brinnall.

Dear Patcher Lady: Your "Little Sister" is a pretty bright child, apparently, and gets off some very clever things, but she hasn't anything on a little three-year old whom I heard express himself the other day concerning something to eat.

His proud mother and her sister were out riding, the mother and sister sitting in the front seat and the little man and his 8-year-old brother sitting in the back seat.

The older brother had pleaded in vain with his mother to stop at a restaurant for something to eat. After a period of silence on the part of his brother, the 8-year-old chirped from the back seat:

"Muvver, us men in the back seat is hungry!"

Bright, no?

FINN.

CONTRIBUTED

Someone must pay the piper
For his song, so brief and sweet.
I saw you dancing on your way
On merry careless feet.

Someone must pay the piper.

No glittering coin had I.
This broken bit of heart, I slipped
To him as I passed by.

Anon.

SPEAKING OF ST. VALENTINE

A Santa Ana youth of nervous appearance yet with a most determined air, walked into the waiting room of a certain office in the First National Bank building. He approached the young woman at the desk.

"Is Mr. Blank in?"

"Yes, he is in."

"Mr. John J. Blank?"

"Yes; would you like to see him?"

"N-o-o-o-o. No thanks. But can you tell me how long he will be here?"

"Why he will be here at least three hours, but he could see you perfectly well just now."

"Thank you just the same, but I think I'll go call on his daughter."

Phone Facts

About two-thirds of the business of taxicabs comes through telephone calls.

About half the number of telephones in Louisiana are located in the city of New Orleans.

In 1853 there were less than 500 telephones in the city of Quebec. Now there about 17,000.

There are 62,689 telephone subscribers in the city of Rochester, N. Y.; just 53,520 more than there were 20 years ago.

More than nine million calls per year are handled by the private branch telephone exchange of one of Chicago's largest department stores.

In one telephone exchange in the city of Hartford, Conn., there are six pairs of sisters employed, and one set of three sisters, while the matron has two daughters serving as operators.

One thousand six hundred operators are employed in Milwaukee by the Wisconsin Telephone company. That is equal to the total number of telephones in the city just 40 years ago, in 1886.

There is an average every day in the city of St. Louis of more than 1,250,000 local telephone calls and 3,333 long distance calls. The average daily number of suburban calls is 17,413.

Last Words

Wonder if that gun's loaded?
Wonder if that fuse is still burnin'?

Wonder if that lion's ticklish?
Wonder if I can jump across?
Wonder if that branch would hold me?

Wonder if that ice is thick enough to skate on?
Wonder if that mule kicks?
Wonder how deep that well is?
Wonder what's in that bottle?—smells good.

Wonder if that's powder or what?
Wonder how far I can lean out o' this window?
Wonder if that's a live wire?—Open Road.

EASY LIES THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY WHEN HE COMES HOME LATE

Mr. Bishop had the information all ready to give, and stated that the excerpt was from the book "E. K. Means," a particularly entertaining fictional study of the American negro whose author, E. K. Means, gives his own name to the collection. The book is illustrated by Kemble, text and illustrations combining to offer one of the most entertaining books of negro stories among current fiction, according to Mrs. Bishop, who found "The Cruise of the Mud Hen" especially enjoyable. The book is to be found in the library, and has already a successor which its author has called "More E. K. Means."
